If a tax or taxes at a rate less than one per cent is levied for any number of years not exceeding twenty years additional taxes may be levied from time to time by a vote as hereinbefore provided for, for the same years, provided the aggregate shall not exceed one per centum. If any tax is levied for a less number of years than twenty years or if a tax has been levied for a period of twenty years, and a part of such period has elapsed, then in either such event, the time during which such tax may be levied may be extended with the vote of the electors as herein provided, so that such tax may be levied for a period not exceeding twenty years from the date of the election by which such period is extended.

Section 7. That whenever the proposed improvement is of such nature or character as to require the use of all or a part of the money to be realized from said special tax before the same will be collected and thereby made available, the Court of County Commissioners may cause the County to advance for the purposes for which said taxation was authorized, such amount or amounts of money as the said Court of County Commissioners may deem to be then necessary or proper for the accomplishment of the said purposes and objects, provided that the aggregate of the amounts so advanced, together with six per cent per annum interest thereon to the dates at which the same may be repaid from the proceeds of said special tax shall not exceed the estimated amount of such special tax computed on the basis of the amount of taxable property in the District shown by the last assessment thereof.

Whenever any such advancement is made by the County, the proceeds of said special tax, insofar as the same may be necessary therefor, shall be used and applied in reimbursing the County for said advances, together with not exceeding six per cent interest thereon from the date of each advance until the time of the repayment thereof. For the purpose of securing money with which to make said advances the said County is hereby authorized to issue and sell, at not less than par, its warrants bearing interest at not more than six per cent per annum, payable annually and maturing at such time or times as the said Court of County Commissioners may determine, but in no event running for a longer period than that fixed as the duration of or for said special tax, and all indebtedness of the

And no debt so created by said County together with six per cent interest per annum thereon to the date of the payment shall exceed the estimated amount of the levied taxes computed on the basis of the last assessment of the taxable property in such districts.

Section 8. That all monies obtained under the provisions of this Act, whether the same consist of the direct proceeds of said tax or of monies advanced by the County, and to be replaced from said tax, shall be devoted exclusively to the purpose or purposes for which said tax was authorized; that the same shall be applied and used in the said district by and under the control of the Court of County Commissioners of said County, but only for the purposes authorized as aforesaid, provided that in those cases wherein the plan of the improvement contemplates the betterment and (or) maintenance of an existing public road, or aiding in constructing, bettering or maintaining a public road which is receiving State or Federal Aid the monies arising from said special tax may be used for such purpose in aid of and in conjunction with funds therefor furnished by the State, by the Federal Government or by the County, and the Court of County Commissioners shall have the power and authority to arrange for a judicious expenditure of the proceeds of said special tax along with monies otherwise available for the accomplishment of the purposes for which said special tax was authorized. And provided if the tax is levied or money advanced for a specific road, bridge, causeway or ferry any surplus may be used for general road improvement in said district. However, in no event shall the Court of County Commissioners, nor anyone else, have authority to apply any of the proceeds of said tax to any construction, development, improvement or maintenance outside of or beyond the limits of the districts.

Section 9. The designation "Court of County Commissioners" as used in this Act, shall include, embrace and designate the governing body or board of said County by whatsoever name called, having the powers conferred by the general law upon Courts of County Commissioners.

Section 10. This Act is intended to make operative, promptly after its adoption, a proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama which the Legislature is submitting to be voted upon on the second Tuesday next following the expiration of three months from the date of the final adjournment of the present session of the Legislature of Alabama, which amendment authorizes the Legislature to form or provide for the formation of districts of the character herein provided for in the County of Baldwin in said State, and authorizes the Legislature to provide for the levying and collecting annually of a tax not exceeding one per centum on the value of the taxable property in such district or districts. This Act shall become and be effective from and after the adoption and promulgation of said amendment in the event the same is adopted.

Section 11. If any word, sentence, clause, section or provision of this Act is for any reason held to be invalid, it shall not affect the remainder of this Act.

Section 12. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed.

Replying to your inquiry of July 20th, hereto prefixed, we beg to advise as follows:

Section 48, of Article IV, of the Constitution of Alabama, provides that "The Legislature shall meet quadrennially at the Capitol, * * *, on the second Tuesday in January next succeeding their election, or on such other day as may be prescribed by law; and shall not remain in session longer than sixty days at the first session held under the Constitution, nor longer than fifty days at any subsequent session." Section 58, following, provides that "Neither House shall, without consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which they may be sitting, except as otherwise provided in the Constitution."

Under Section 48 it seems clear that when a session of the Legislature is begun, it must proceed continuously for fifty days, not counting Sundays, unless by the joint or concurring action of both Houses, adjournments over should be declared.—Moog v. Randolph, 77 Alabama, 597, 608. By such joint or concurring action the session may be extended until the time appointed by law for the meeting of the next Legislature, so long as fifty working days have not been used in actual session.—Cushing's Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies, page 206, Secs. 509-515.

It is clear, also, that on any day within the period of constitutional limitation, over which there has been no adjournment by the joint or concurring action of both Houses, either House may be in lawful session, and may transact all legislative business properly brought before it,—even though the other House chooses not to be in session, and has in fact adjourned over.—Cushing's Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies, p. 206, Sec. 511; State, ex rel. Adams v. Hillyer, 2 Kansas 1, 28.

In such a case, a session by either House,—the other House not sitting,—makes a legislative day, to be deducted from the fifty days allowed by the Constitution. This conclusion seems obvious, and is not impugned, but rather confirmed, by section 58 of the Constitution, supra, which permits either House to separately suspend its own labors by its own separate adjournment for a period of three days, without the consent of the other House.

Answering your questions in detail, we advise:

First: Tuesday, July 19th, was the 34th legislative day of the Senate.

Second: Tuesday, July 19th, was the 34th legislative day of the House.

Third: Wednesday, July 13th, on which the Senate was in session, though the House was not, was a legislative day for the Legislature as a whole.

Fourth: There can be no legislative days separately and distinctly for the Senate and for the House. Each day used by either Senate or House, not previously excluded by joint or concurrent action, is a legislative day for both.

Respectfully,

Chief Justice.

IN THE LEGISLATURE OF ALABAMA, SESSION 1927, REPORT OF THE ALABAMA MUSCLE SHOALS COMMISSION.

To the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House:

Pursuant to an Act of the Legislature approved February 10th, 1927, creating the Alabama Muscle Shoals Commission, its members were appointed as follows: The President of the Senate on the part of the Senate, appointed Senators G. Walter Jones, Huntsville, and William E. James, Cullman; the Speaker of the House on the part of the House appointed Representatives B. de G. Waddell, Seale, O. L. Tompkins, Dothan, C. W. Ashcraft, Florence; and the Governor appointed from the State at large Judge William E. Fort, Birmingham, and Hon. L. B. Musgrove, Jasper. By the terms of the Act the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House are ex-officio members of the Commission.

Duties of the Commission. The act required that "Said Commission shall investigate the right, title and interest of the State of Alabama in and to the power dam, power site and other improvements at Wilson Dam and Muscle Shoals and report to this Legislature their findings and conclusions and recommend to the Legislature such statutes as ought to be enacted to preserve and conserve all the rights, title and interest of the State of Alabama in the said Muscle Shoals and Wilson Dam Improvement and project and also to conserve and preserve the right, title and interest of the State of Alabama in beds of the streams in Alabama."

Action of the Commission. The Commission held its first meeting in the office of the Governor on February 18, 1927, and completed its organization by the election of Senator Jones as Chairman and Representative Ashcraft as Secretary. Mr. John S. Tilley, Montgomery, was selected as Attorney

It was the opinion and advice of the Governor that the Commission and their Attorney should accompany him on an immediate visit to Washington, as the final adjournment of Congress was rapidly approaching and the Governor was of opinion that the State's interests should be safeguarded by an immediate statement by himself to the President and Congressional Committees, appropriately notifying these authorities that Alabama claimed definite rights at Muscle Shoals and in other navigable streams of the State.

The Governor accompanied by the Commission, their attorney, and the President of the Public Service Commission, appeared before the President February 24th, 1927, and presented the following statement:
The President of the United States:

We, the duly constituted authorities of the State of Alabama, recognizing and respecting every right, equity and power of our Nation, but conscious of our solemn obligation to the State of Alabama, and its people to assert, defend, and protect every right, equity, and power of Alabama, as provided and guaranteed in the laws of the land, do hereby present to you, the President of the United States, the following memorial and statement regarding the rights of Alabama in and to the bed, shores, water and power of that portion of the Tennessee River which is within the State of Alabama, and specifically with regard to the project located at Muscle Shoals known as Wilson Dam, with the appurtenances thereto.

Subject only to the authority of the United States relative to navigation and to war purposes, the State of Alabama claims absolute title to, and ownership, jurisdiction and control of, that portion of the Tennessee River which is within the State of Alabama, its waters, banks, beds, soils, including the power in the water and the value thereof, and all other property rights in anywise incident thereto or arising therefrom.

Our contention that such title is in the State for public purposes is upheld by the uniform decisions of the Supreme Court of Alabama.

The Supreme Court of the United States has uniformly held that each State has the right to determine this question for itself.

The State of Alabama is prepared to supply ample and satisfactory authorities and briefs in support of each of the foregoing propositions, and stands ready to confer with the duly constituted authorities of the United States Government in regard to the rights and claims above stated.

Earnestly feeling our responsibility, and believing that the adjustment of this matter is peculiarly within the powers and functions of the Chief Executive of the Nation, we respectfully submit these claims to the consideration of the President of the United States.

The Governor, accompanied by the Commission, its Attorney and the President of the Public Service Commission had hearings also before the Secretary of War, the Judge Advocate General, the Committee on Military Affairs of the House and the Committee on Agriculture and Forestry of the Senate, and filed with each of them the same statement as was handed to the President.

Brief Prepared. The arguments presented were included in a brief prepared by the Attorney of the Commission, which was later enlarged, printed and filed with the Attorney General of the United States, and for information of the Legislature is included herewith in full as Appendix "A". This brief deserves the careful reading of the members of the Legislature and the citizens of Alabama.

History and Description of Muscle Shoals Developments. Since the Act creating the Commission specifically requires the consideration of Wilson Dam and Muscle Shoals in the Tennessee River in north Alabama, an outline of the history of the Muscle Shoals developments from 1824 to the present time, together with a brief description has been prepared and will be found in Appendix "B". The present status of the water power improvements in brief, is as follows:

The navigation project consists of three dams. Lock and Dam No. 1 is a small structure for navigation only, located between Patton Island and the north bank of the Tennessee River near the Southern Railway bridge at Florence. Its purpose is to supply a slack water approach up to the lower lock of Dam No. 2. Dam No. 2, now officially known as Wilson Dam, is a large navigation-power dam provided with two locks.

Both of these dams are completed and soon will be ready for navigation service. Wilson Dam backs up the water to the site of the proposed navigation-power Dam No. 3. The construction of proposed Dam No. 3 has not been started, the only work there being the complete core-drilling of the river bed to determine its suitability for foundation purposes. The lake above Wilson Dam submerges the entire lower section of the old Muscle Shoals canal except Locks Nos. One and Two.

Wilson Dam is equipped for the development of hydro-electric power, the power house being a part of the dam and located on the river bed at the south end of the dam. The power house contains concrete foundations for 18 hydro-electric turbines with a total generating capacity of 620,000 horsepower. Only eight of these turbines have been installed. As for the remaining ten, there is neither authority nor appropriation from Congress for their installation, although such legislation was before the last Congress.

Before the construction of Wilson Dam there was an island about midway of the river known as Jackson Island, which the Government purchased, the island being approximately 1000 feet wide where it is cut in two by the dam, so that the government is using as foundations for the dam approximately 1400 feet on the original bed of the river north of Jackson Island and 1800 feet on the original river bed south of Jackson Island.

Utilizing Muscle Shoals. The utilization of the Muscle Shoals power and nitrate plants remains before Congress as an unsolved question. The National Defense Act provided that the power from dams built under its provisions should be used primarily for the manufacture of nitrates which are the essential elements in all explosives. These nitrates are to be produced in forms that would be useful in the manufacture of fertilizers. It was clearly the intention of Congress that the enterprise should be a part of our National equipment for defense and one which should be made useful to agriculture in time of peace.

Up to the present time Congress has not been able to agree upon any plan for the future of the properties. One group favors the acceptance of a proposal which has been made by the American Cyanamid Company, a concern which is now successfully operating at Niagara Falls the same nitrogen fixation process as that installed at Nitrate Plant No. 2, and which is using its Niagara Falls product in the manufacture of concentrated fertilizers. These are produced in the form of ammonium phosphate at its plant on New York Harbor at Warners, N. J., and are chiefly exported, though they are rapidly coming into general use in the South.

Another group favors the offer made by thirteen associated power companies who propose to utilize the synthetic process now used in government-subsidized plants in Germany and other European countries but which has never been employed for that purpose in the United States. The Government did construct Nitrate Plant No. 1 at Muscle Shoals to utilize this process but after an expenditure of more than $13,000,000.00 it was abandoned as a failure.

The third group favors the operation by the Government of all the properties as a Government enterprise, the United States through a Government corporation, engaging in the business of power distribution, and in an experimental way only, in fertilizer production. It is in this field of Government operation that the rights of the State of Alabama are most seriously threatened.

Claims on Behalf of Alabama. In his inaugural address in January, 1927, Hon. Bibb Graves, Governor of Alabama, expressed his belief that the State of Alabama has certain definite rights and interests in all navigable streams of the State, including the Tennessee River at Muscle Shoals, based upon the State's sovereign ownership of the banks, bed and waters of all navigable streams, as trustee for the people. Upon his recommendation the bill was passed creating the Alabama Muscle Shoals Commission for the purposes set out at the beginning of this report.

The claim made by Governor Graves in behalf of the State of Alabama is based:

First, upon the rule of Common Law that the title to the bed of the sea and the bed of all rivers as far as the flow of the tide extended, was in the Crown; that the right of property in all navigable waters was conferred upon the Colonies by Royal Charters and was succeeded to by the States, "Subject to the superior power of the United States over navigation"; that the States have authority to establish such rules of property for themselves as they deem expedient, relative to the ownership of the beds and banks of navigable streams, subject to the paramount but limited authority of Congress to control navigation; that the State of Alabama, when admitted into the Union became entitled to the soil under its navigable waters and now owns such soil in its sovereign capacity as trustee for all the people of the State, subordinate only to the paramount right, limited to the control of navigation, granted in the Federal Constitution to the United States; that this trusteeship of the State cannot be relinquished by any transfer of the property; and

Second, that Section 22 of the Constitution of Alabama provides, "That no ex post facto law, nor any law, impairing the obligations of contracts or making any irrevocable or exclusive grants or special privileges or immunities, shall be passed by the Legislature and every grant or franchise, privilege or immunity shall forever remain subject to revocation, alteration or amendment."

Rights of Federal Government and the State of Alabama at Muscle Shoals. The Commission has made a careful study of the legal aspects of this subject and has conducted extensive correspondence with officials of other states who have asserted their states' rights. As a result of this investigation the Commission finds that the respective rights of the interested sovereigns at Muscle Shoals are apparently as follows:

1. The Federal Government has the right under the Constitution to regulate interstate and foreign commerce and to safeguard the national defense. The first power confers the paramount, but limited, right to maintain and improve navigation, and the second gives the necessary authority to construct dams, plants, or other improvements for defensive purposes.

2. The United States Supreme Court in a long list of cases recognizes the paramount authority of the State to make and enforce its own property laws. This carries with it the unquestioned right of each sovereign state to determine the qualifications of these individuals or corporations who shall be permitted to engage in private business within the State and the conditions under which they shall be permitted to do business.

It is clear that the State may act independently of the Federal Government in cases of property rights only so far as it can do so without entering the field of interstate commerce or navigation improvement. In like manner the Federal Government may exercise independently its functions of interstate commerce regulations, navigation improvement and provisions for national defense, to that extent which does not transgress the property laws of the several states.

The Federal Government itself as a riparian owner could not qualify under the statutes of Alabama for the building of a hydro-electric dam for commercial purposes. The statute in question (Section 10570 of the Code of Alabama of 1923) states in plain terms who may qualify for the building of such dams; the language is

"Any person, firm or corporation organized for the purpose of improving the navigation upon a navigable river in the State of Alabama and of developing in connection therewith the waterpower thereof by a dam and lock, * * and shall have been organized and incorporated for the specific and particular purpose of improving the navigation of and developing water power in connection with a particular and specific river, etc."

As is soundly stated by Mr. John S. Tilley, Attorney for this Commission, under Point XXI of the brief presented as Appendix A, hereof,

"It needs no argument to establish the contention that this language does not describe the United States Government. The mere quotation from the statute proves that the United States could not qualify under the statute, inasmuch as the United States is not a person, firm or corporation organized for the purpose of improving navigation upon a navigable river in the State of Alabama and of developing in connection therewith a water power by dam or lock."

The Federal Government can no more engage in commercial business contrary to State law than the State can improve navigation contrary to Federal law. As a sovereign exercising its own paramount rights the United States did not need to apply to the State of Alabama for rights under State law to construct Wilson Dam for purposes of navigation improvement, but should it utilize this property for commercial purposes it is no longer in a field in which its authority is sovereign and paramount, but is within the realm wherein the power of the State is paramount and within which the authority of the State Supreme Court is admitted by the United States Supreme Court to be final and conclusive. This situation was brought out forcefully and clearly in the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of the Fox River Paper Company and others versus the Railroad Commission of the State of Wisconsin.

The Recent Fox River Decision. The Fox River Paper Company and others owned a timber dam across Fox River, a navigable stream, near Appleton, Wisconsin. The dam was completed in 1878 and has been maintained ever since.

Desiring to enlarge and rebuild their dam, the owners made application to the State Railroad Commission for a permit to do so under the State law. In applying for their permit, however, the owners refused to agree to conditions required of applicants under Section 31.09 of the Wisconsin statutes and on that account the State Railroad Commission decided that it was without jurisdiction to consider their application and ordered it dismissed. In a suit in the nature of a mandamus proceeding in the Circuit Court of Dane County, Wisconsin, brought by the owners of the dam, the Circuit Court sustained the Commission in its decision, and the Supreme Court of Wisconsin affirmed the position of the Circuit Court. The owners of the dam took the case to the United States Supreme Court on the ground that the State law was unconstitutional.

The United States Supreme Court on May 31st, 1927, handed down its decision stating that it would not undertake to pass upon the sufficiency of the statute in question, this being a matter of State law. "The nature and extent of the rights of the State and of riparian owners in navigable waters within the State and to the soil beneath, are matters of State law to be determined by the statutes and decisions of the State," said the Court. "It is for the State Court in cases such as this to define rights in lands located within the State," said the Court, and further declared "this court on writ of error must accept as final the ruling of the State court of last resort on all matters of State law."

The United States Supreme Court reviewed the Wisconsin law and found that the statute in question "did not appear to run counter to any established rule of property" of the State, and hence, there was no violation of a constitutional right. "Compliance with section 31.09 (of the State law of Wisconsin) is the price which plaintiffs must pay to secure the right to maintain their dam," said the Court in affirming the judgment of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin, the Circuit Court of Dane County and the State Railroad Commission.

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin upheld the contention of the Railroad Commission that the property rights of riparian owners in the water power are subordinate to the State control of navigable waters, and the riparian owner can have no such right so long as the State withholds its consent to the construction or continued maintenance of the dam. The United States Supreme Court unanimously held that the question was one of State law on which the United States Supreme Court must accept the ruling of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin as final.

In general, therefore, it is clearly apparent that in the construction, maintenance and operation of a dam in a navigable stream, the rights of the Federal Government are paramount and unquestioned so long as its acts pertaining to this dam are acts consistent with the purposes of navigation improvement; but when, having acquired the position of a riparian owner for this paramount purpose of navigation improvement, the Federal Government performs acts in connection with its property which are not compatible with this purpose, and utilizes its improvements and riparian rights in order to sell power commercially in competition with its citizens, then its acts are no longer in a field wherein its rights are paramount but are merely those of a riparian owner within the State and as such are amenable to the property law of the State in which they occur. In this field of property rights the authority of the State Supreme Court is conceded by the United States Supreme Court to be final and conclusive.

The authority of the State Supreme Court being final on all matters of State property law, it follows that it is the paramount right of the State, in consenting to the construction or continued maintenance of a dam across a navigable stream for commercial purposes to attach to its consent such conditions as the Legislature may from time to time see fit, provided that in so doing it violates no constitutional right of the parties at interest.

Water power differs from every other form of private property in two respects. First, on navigable streams the ownership of water power by the owner of riparian rights, with or without improvements, is not absolute ownership in fee, but is always subject to the superior rights of the Federal Government for purposes of navigation improvement which does not recognize the riparian owner's title to the water power. The right of the riparian owner are further subject to the superior rights of the State, which has paramount authority over property rights and holds in trust the bed, banks, and waters of its navigable streams in the interest of all the people. Without the consent of the State the courts have held that the riparian ownership of waterpower does not exist.

The rights of the riparian owner in the water power of a navigable stream therefore are not recognized in law against the paramount but limited right of the Federal Government to regulate and improve navigation, nor are they recognized in law against the paramount right of the State to regulate and control property rights within the State.

Federal Water Power Act. Contrary to much popular opinion the Federal Water Power Act, aside from navigation requirements, is merely a gesture on the part of the Federal Government, for its so-called regulations are entirely unenforceable without the consent of the State. The authority and jurisdiction of the State is recognized in Section 9-B of the Act which states that every applicant for a Federal permit must present:

"Satisfactory evidence that the applicant has complied with the requirements of the laws of the State or States within which the proposed project is to be located with respect to bed and banks and to the appropriation, diversion, and use of water for power purposes and with respect to the right to engage in the business of developing, transmitting, and distributing power, and in any other business necessary to effect the purposes of a license under this Act."

In other words the State's rights come first and the Federal Government under this provision undertakes only to satisfy itself that the applicant has complied with the laws of the State. Since compliance with the State laws is a prerequisite qualification of an applicant under the Federal Water Power Act, it follows that other provisions of the Act are themselves effective only in so far as they do not violate the State law. The administration of Federal Water Power legislation, therefore, is administration by sufferance of the States and effective in its specific provisions only so far as the States by their actions or inactions permit it to be effective.

In 1922 the State administration of New York brought suit against the Attorney General of the United States and the Federal Power Commission to test the Federal Water Power Act and the threatened invasion of the rights of the State of New York by the Federal Power Commission.

Before taking testimony in the case, a conference was held between the representatives of the State and Federal Government on May 10, 1923, in order if possible to harmonize the conflicting claims of the respective rights of the two Governments. The results of this conference are given by Hon. Carl Sherman, Attorney General of the State of New York, in the Annual Report of the New York Water Power Commission for the year ending December 31, 1924, page 56, as follows:

"I agreed to discontinue the suit because I felt the state could not have a test of these important questions in view of the attitude of the present Federal officers, who have taken no action which may be regarded as an infringement of the state's rights in its waters, and in conference, substantially conceded the State's claims."

If the Federal Power Commission had had confidence in their legal rights it is not conceivable that they would have conceded the rights of New York State as they did.

The State of New Jersey brought suit against the Attorney General and the Federal Water Power Commission in 1925 in order to test the Federal Water Power Act but the bill was dismissed by the Supreme Court because:

"In the judgment of the Court whether the provisions of the Act are invalid as alleged cannot be made the subject of judicial inquiry until they are about to be given some practical application and effect and this would naturally be after they became a part of an accepted license and after some right, privilege, immunity or duty asserted under them becomes the subject of actual controversy." (Sixth Annual Report Federal Power Commission, page 39.)

In the absence of such actual controversy the bill was dismissed.

The Federal Power Commission has never to our knowledge, permitted a concrete question involving the validity of the Federal Water Power Act to come to an issue that would properly form the basis of a suit in the Supreme Court.

Position of Commission. The circumstances which demand a consideration of the rights of the State in connection with the Wilson Dam at this time were well stated by Governor Graves before the Committee on Military Affairs of the House of Representatives, February 24, 1927, as follows:

"So long as it was the right of the Nation that was involved, we have stood aside. So long as you were doing it from the standpoint of the national defense or from standpoint of navigation, we were putting the interest of the Nation first. So long as those considerations were the major ones, we stood aside, and it is only when it looks like the national interest is to be made a side line, and that the main question is to be one of property interests and profits, that the case becomes different.* * * We are willing for you to use it for national purposes, but not for financial purposes."

Alabama yields to no other State a greater degree of patriotism in dealing with a military enterprise essential to national defense, nor superior cooperation in advancing the interest of the Federal Government in the cause of navigation improvement. Our people donated much of the overflowed lands for the Wilson Dam development and gave options to the United States for the purchase of other thousands of acres at prices representing but a fraction of their value.

We raised no question of state's rights when during the great war, President Wilson ordered the construction of Wilson Dam. There was no thought in those days of financial gain or profit in considering this dam. The military value of the dam remains today of utmost importance. Its value to navigation will increase with every dam that is built in Tennessee River. The chief interest in the dam today, however, is neither of these purposes, but the question of the commercial generation and sale of electrical power, and in this field of property rights the authority of the State is final and conclusive. We do not believe that the State should be arbitrary in the exercise of its undisputed authority in this field, but should use it only to protect its citizens against policies which would clearly be detrimental to their interests.

We unhesitatingly protest against any lease by the Government wherein the lessee would attempt to pay the Federal Government for the regulated flow of a navigable river. We believe that such a payment violates the fundamental rights of the State and works an injustice to its citizens. In this regard we would particularly call attention to the opinion of Hon. John K. Shields, former Supreme Justice of the State of Tennessee, and later Senator from Tennessee, who in a letter of January 15, 1927, to Hon. Cordell Hull, Member of Congress from Tennessee, stated:

"The only instance which has come under my observation of the United States, where it has no riparian rights, proposing to charge for water power created by storage reservoirs, whether constructed by it or not, is that contained in the proposed contracts between the thirteen associated power companies and the United States for the lease of the Muscle Shoals dam and works, under which the lessee is to pay $20.00 per horsepower annually for each additional horsepower made primary in excess of the present primary power of Dam No. 2, created by storage and headwater improvements, not to exceed $1,200,000.00, and a similar provision for the payment of increased primary power at Dam No. 3 not to exceed an annual charge of $600,000.00. These provisions must astound all who have reasonable knowledge of the rights of the states in the waters of navigable rivers. This provision of the contract is without consideration and is void and unenforceable. These waters and the right to receive compensation for their value and benefit belong to the States and the people of Tennessee and Alabama, and they have the sole and exclusive right to receive the revenue from them."

In the Fox River case referred to above, the United States Supreme Court, by unanimous decision, confirms the opinion of Judge Shields. There is no way for this $1,800,000.00 annual payment to be made except for the power companies to pay it into the Federal Treasury—a tax upon the power consumers amounting in 40 years to $72,000,000.00—but if this is done it will be because the State Legislature has failed to use its admitted constitutional powers to protect the people of the State. To those who believe that such a violation of State's rights would never be approved by Congress, we would say that a Joint Committee on Muscle Shoals from the United States Senate and House approved and reported out such a proposal by a majority vote at the last Congress.

All contracts for sale of utility power within the State being subject to State regulation, it is the opinion of the Commission that regulatory powers of the State are not limited by reasons of the fact that a contract for power sale may be considered temporary in nature by its makers, but all contracts covering the sale of power which is to be used for general distribution, in whole or in part, should be made with the approval of the duly constituted agent of the State—The Alabama Public Service Commission.

We feel that the exercise of such authority over transactions involving electrical power for distribution within the State is in accordance with the policy which Congress adopted in passing the Federal Water Power Act, for the Act provides "that the jurisdiction of the (Federal Power) Commission shall cease and determine as to each specific matter of regulation and control prescribed in this section as soon as the State shall have provided a Commission or other authority for the regulation and control of that specific matter." If the State of Alabama is negligent in protecting the interests of its people it can hardly complain if the United States endeavors to protect them; but the invitation is for the State to exercise its paramount authority in this matter of property rights and we believe that it should do so.

We would not impose conditions on behalf of the State which would tend to delay or diminish the proper development and utilization of our water power resources whether at Muscle Shoals or elsewhere in our navigable streams. Our greatest waterpower development within the State has suffered years of fruitless delay and discussion because of the activity of radical enthusiasts who seek to overturn the established policy of the Government in the United States by placing our Government in private business in competition with its citizens, thereby jeopardizing private capital and leading to uncertainty and delay in the development and utilization of our water power resources. Your Commission does not believe that a policy of Government-in-business will work out to the best interests of the taxpayers of Alabama or any other State and therefore does not believe that it is in the best interests of the Federal Government itself. It is our opinion that the State of Alabama should express its sovereign power over property rights, and demand that the Federal Government should not engage in commercial distribution of power in Alabama, because we believe that such a policy will conserve the best interests of the State and Federal Government alike and will perpetuate the sound policy of keeping the Government clear of commercial enterprises—a policy which from careful examination of the Federal Constitution we believe was clearly in the minds of the framers of that historic document. The State Constitution prohibits the State Government from engaging in the power business and makes no exception in favor of the Federal Government. A policy of no Government-in-business in Alabama applies as aptly to Federal as to State enterprises, so that a power business conducted by the Federal Government, at Muscle Shoals or elsewhere within the State, clearly would be a violation of the intent and purposes of our State Constitution.

As an indication of the length to which advocates of Government operation will go in violating State's rights in their efforts to create Federal authority to establish their policies, the following extracts are given from Government operation bills which at one time or another have been before Congress.

The earliest of these was the so called Wadsworth-Kahn Bill (S. 3390, 66th Cong., 2nd Sess.) reported May 24, 1920, which provided that a Government corporation should have the power "To sell any or all of its products to producers or users of fertilizers or to others."

Nothing was said in this bill about the operation of the corporation to conform to the property laws of the State in which it was proposed that it should do business.

The Norris Bill of 1922 (S. 3420, 67th Cong., 2nd Sess.) introduced by Senator Norris April 10, 1922, provided that a Government corporation should have the following authority:

"In case all of the power developed at Dams Nos. 2 and 3 at Muscle Shoals and at any other dams constructed by the Secretary of War under the provisions of this Act and turned over to the corporation, cannot be used to practical advantage and is not necessary for manufacture of fertilizer or for explosives as herein provided, the Board (of Directors of the Corporation, consisting of three persons appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate) may in its discretion sell any such surplus power so developed to any State, municipality, district, corporation, partnership or person upon such terms and under such conditions as the Board may deem just; and * * the Board may as one of the conditions of such sale provide in the contract for such sale further regulations of price at which any such individual, partnership or corporation shall charge the consumer in a resale of such power."

In another paragraph, the bill provides that the corporation shall have the power "To make and enforce such contracts as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act."

A similar bill, identical in the foregoing respects, (S. 2372, 68th Cong., 1st Sess.) was introduced by Senator Norris, February 7, 1924,

On January 5th, 1926 Senator Norris introduced a bill (S. 2147, 69th Cong., 1st Sess.) providing for the organization of a Government corporation to be known as "The Federal Power Corporation" naming three well known advocates of the policy of Government-in-business as directors; the bill provided that this Board

"shall construct such transmission lines as in its judgment may be advisable and shall charge such rates as in its judgment will be necessary" and "provide in the contract therefor for the regulation of the price at which any such individual, partnership or corporation shall charge the consumer in a resale of such power."

These provisions manifestly are an open and flagrant violation of the property laws of the State of Alabama.

The Muscle Shoals power properly and fairly utilized for the purposes for which Congress intended can undoubtedly bring a great public good not only to the citizens of Alabama, but to the farmers and to the people of all the States. In the hands of irresponsible bureaucrats, however, seeking only to perpetuate their offices and financing their operations out of the public treasury, the Muscle Shoals or any other important waterpower can become an effective instrument for demoralizing that spirit of private enterprise and initiative which is the foundation of this country's prosperity.

(To this point the Commission were in unanimous agreement on the report. But in the matter of "Conclusions", C. W. Ashcraft did not concur in the views of the other members of the Commission. The "Conclusions" next following are those favored by the majority. Mr. Ashcraft's views as to "Conclusions" follow those of the majority and to that extent Mr. Ashcraft offers a minority report.)

Conclusions. Your Commission is therefor of the opinion that the Governor of the State of Alabama should be authorized by proper legislative enactment to negotiate with the Government of the United States and with any other person, firms or corporations for the adjustment, compromise and proper settlement of, and, if such adjustment, compromise and settlement fails, to direct the institution of whatever suit or proceedings, at law or equity, may be necessary to recover, the rights, title, equities and interests which the State of Alabama has in and to the power dam, power site and other improvements at Wilson Dam and Muscle Shoals; and also any other rights or interests the State of Alabama has or owns in and to the beds, banks and waters of its navigable streams from the United States or any other person, firm or corporation, which may have any adverse interest or claim therein; and to employ all necessary agents, or agencies and legal counsel for said purposes and to direct the Attorney General or such legal counsel to institute such suits or proceedings whenever the Governor may deem necessary and to make appropriations for necessary expenses incurred therefor.

In the case of Fox River Paper Co., et al vs. Railroad Commission of Wisconsin, decided by the Supreme Court of the United States on May 31st, 1927, the principle was re-enunciated, which principle had in effect many times before been stated by the same Court, that a State has the power to amend laws now existing, covering the subject of water powers and the control thereof, by suitable regulations, requirements and conditions precedent to the construction or continued maintenance of any dam in any navigable stream of a State where the same laws govern as in the State of Alabama, whether said dam is already built or may be built hereafter; provided that such dam is used or may hereafter be used commercially for power purposes. If the Legislature of this State regard any of its water power laws as being inadequate, unfair or unjust, it is within its power to revise such laws. If and when the Legislature feels that adequate laws have been enacted, your Commission believes that it voices the desire of all of our people to cooperate cordially with the Federal Government in all matters of internal improvement within the state and especially in the improvement and development of our navigable streams and rivers; and we recommend that, if and when the Governor and counsel and agents have negotiated satisfactory terms and conditions with the Federal Government, its agencies, or lessees, which will safe-guard the interests of the State of Alabama and such terms and conditions have been approved by the Legislature an easement should be granted to the Federal Government, or its agencies, or lessees, for the construction and maintenance of power plants at both Wilson Dam in the Tennessee River and Lock and Dam No. Seventeen (17) in the Warrior River, and in any other proposed water power plant or plants operated for commercial purposes, in connection with any navigation dam within this State, and that such easement should be granted along such lines and on similar terms as such easements may be granted to persons, firms or corporations by the laws of this State; but conditioned upon compliance with all laws and regulations of the State of Alabama and such reasonable terms and conditions and under such permits as may be required by the duly constituted authorities of this State.

Respectfully submitted,

MINORITY REPORT BY C. W. ASHCRAFT

While concurring in the statements and arguments of the Commission, I am unable to agree with other members in their "Conclusions" based upon those arguments. I am unwilling to advise the State of Alabama to enter upon a lawsuit with the United States Government upon any of the grounds this Commission has had presented to it, or were able to ascertain. This whole inquiry and activity has unquestionably been directed toward the Government at Wilson Dam. Every legislature which has met since the building of Wilson dam was even contemplated, has passed appealing resolutions calling upon Congress to start the building of the Dam, to let it to Henry Ford, to make appropriations to finish the Dam and Power House and equip them. This work has all been completed with every modern equipment. Now, that it is completed and all the money spent that can be spent to make it the most modern, and most inspiring development of its kind in the world, I cannot bring myself to be a party to entering suit against the Government for a proprietary interest in it. After all that was said and done to induce the Government to invest the millions there for its completion and equipment, my conscience rebels at the thought of such a claim on technical grounds. I am sure I voice the earnest desire of every citizen of the state in asserting a determination to encourage and not discourage the Federal Government in continued appropriations for further developments in navigable streams within the State.

The State does have and should assert the right to regulate and control the commercial output of the plant. In doing so it is within both its moral and legal rights as well as meeting its unquestioned obligations. The development is within the State and the State would not and could not escape its obligation to police and protect the properties and furnish all the facilities of civilization including highways, schools, etc., for those engaged in its operation. Therefore, the State must regulate and control, and must be kept in position to be able to perform towards the properties its obligations of statehood. Therefore, protecting every right and obligation of the State, in morals as well as the right of regulation and control, I make the following recommendations which are to that extent a Minority Report.

Conclusions. It is my opinion that it is within the power of the Legislature of Alabama to amend its State water power laws by setting up such regulations as it may see fit to impose as conditions precedent to the construction or continued maintenance of any dam whether built now or hereafter, in any navigable stream of the State, which is used or to be used commercially or industrially for power purposes, and it is my judgment that under this authority the State should safeguard its citizens against illegal and inequitable contracts whether temporary or otherwise in nature and against contracts calling for payments devoid of consideration.

I believe that second only to the duty of serving the best interests of its citizens, it is the obligation of the State to cooperate with the Federal Government in all matters of public improvement. It is, therefore, my opinion that this Session of the Legislature, while safeguarding the rights of its citizens, should aid the Federal Government in such works of improvement as Congress shall desire to build within the State, by offering, in a spirit of cooperation, a fair and just basis on which the Federal Government may proceed, with the knowledge that its plans will have the fullest cooperation of the State. The Legislature of Alabama would never have made a charge for granting to the Federal Government an easement for the construction of the Wilson Dam for power purposes during the war, and should disavow any intention on its part to take advantage of the fact that the dam has been built, but with the same patriotic pride as that shown by citizens of the Muscle Shoals district in furnishing their lands, and surrendering none of the legal rights as a sovereign State, I believe that the power laws of Alabama should be so amended as to provide for granting the Federal Government an easement for the construction and maintenance of commercial power plants at both Wilson Dam in the Tennessee River and Lock and Dam Number 17 in the Warrior River, and I further believe that the Federal Government should be granted an easement for the construction of power plants, for commercial purposes, in connection with any other navigation dam which the Government may be induced to build within the State. For this purpose I believe the Alabama Public Service Commission should be directed by Statutes to grant such an easement to the Federal Government for Wilson Dam in the Tennessee River and Lock and Dam Number 17 in the Warrior River, and that it should be made the duty of the Commission to maintain contact with the Federal Government for the purpose of encouraging and facilitating the construction of other similar improvements within the State by the Federal Government and from time to time recommend suitable legislation to effectuate this purpose.

In the same spirit of cooperation I would call upon the Federal Government to protect and conserve the interests of the people of Alabama by leasing such power-navigation developments to responsible bidders upon terms which shall yield the Federal Government a reasonable rate of interest upon its investment for power purposes but not burdening to users of power beyond a fair return when considered with due regard to the rate paid by the Government upon its invested capital, and in the light of the fact that the Federal Government is not a profit-making institution. This has been the attitude of the Government in building dams for the aid of agriculture in the arid regions of the West. Fertilizers produced by cheap water power are as essential to the East and South as water for irrigation is to the West.

Recommendations. I therefore recommend that the Legislature enact a law granting to the United States Government an easement for the construction and maintenance, in connection with the navigation dams and improvements, at Wilson Dam in Tennessee River and at Lock 17 in Warrior River, suitable power houses and power facilities for generating hydro-electric power for commercial or industrial purposes, so as to set at rest, so far as legislative enactment may do, any conflict of claim or authority between the State and Federal Government concerning those improvements which have already been made. I also recommend the enactment of legislation for granting similar easements in connection with any other developments or improvements which the Government may in the future be induced to undertake.

But in full accord with the Government's policy as defined in the Federal Water Power Act, I call upon Congress not to enact laws nor to approve contracts affecting the use or disposition of power from such developments that shall be in violation of or in conflict with clearly acknowledged states' rights in the matter of regulation or control or any other property rights or laws of the State. I call upon Congress and Federal officials under their direction not to make terms for use of such properties that shall be more burdensome to users of water-made power, than are required of users of water-made irrigation in the West. I call upon Congress, in considering contracts in connection with all such power developments, to adhere to principles embodied in section 9-b of the Federal Water Power Act and require every lessee to procure and maintain the position of constant compliance with all state laws of regulation and control in all respects as if said lessee or operating agency or company were an Alabama citizen or corporation, as I believe was clearly in the mind of Congress when they passed the Federal Water Power Act.

Seeking to forthwith carry into effect Alabama's part in these recommendations a suitable bill will be introduced, with the expectation that it be enacted into law.

In submitting this report and these recommendations I am mindful of the fact that these steps will not establish in Alabama the fully developed water power policy which the State should have in the interests of its taxpayers.

I do believe, however, that the action here recommended will safeguard the rights of the State as trustee for the people in establishing clearly defined relations with the Federal Government at Muscle Shoals in accordance with a fair and constitutional policy as stated by Governor Graves. Such a course I believe is fundamental and must be adopted before taking other steps in working out a state water power policy.

Respectfully submitted,
C. W. Ashcraft.

SUPPLEMENTAL RECOMMENDATIONS AND REPORT BY OSCAR L. TOMPKINS.

I fully concur in the majority report of this Commission and have signed same. The recommendations contained in that report will receive all of the aid I am capable of giving in the House of Representatives. Yet, a compelling sense of duty forces me to add the following, which expresses my individual views as to certain features of the water power situation in Alabama.

I would not do or say anything or recommend anything to retard power development in Alabama or to make unsafe legal investments in power development projects in Alabama. I believe in the protection of every property right of every individual, firm and corporation.

But I am not unmindful of the fact that heretofore the State of Alabama undertook to grant perpetual easements in and to its navigable streams for power purposes and that these grants were based on no adequate consideration.

It is my opinion further that these seeming irrevocable grants are in conflict with the Constitution of this State and that the State of Alabama has the right and power from time to time to enact suitable legislation necessary to keep for the people a part of the profits derived from the use of these so-called easements. I do not forget that for a long period of years, the persons, firms and corporations who secured these grants and made these developments were exempt in a large measure from taxation and secured special favors in that respect. I feel that the time has come to make known to the world that while we shall respect every legal and constitutional right of every dollar of capital invested in this State; yet, this capital must realize that the State will not sit supinely and see the birth-right of future generations and all toll therefrom withheld from the sovereign.

I feel that the water power laws of this State should be revised and readjusted so as to be fair both to water power companies and to the sovereign and its citizens; that laws should be enacted to preclude the pre-emption of remaining power sites in this State for speculative purposes and without regard to the supreme rights of the State.

The water powers of the State are the property of the whole people of the State and not the property of any particular section or locality, and laws should be enacted keeping this principle in mind. The case of Fox River Paper Company, et al v. R. R. Commission of Wisconsin, decided by the Supreme Court of the United States on May 31, 1927, clearly re-enunciates the principle that this State has absolute control and ownership in and over its navigable streams, save as to navigation and certain aspects of National Defense.

This State in the main bartered away for nothing its public lands with their rich deposits of iron and coal. But little remains from those lands except unpleasant memories and bitter experiences. If this State had exercised cautious provision in the disposal of its coal and iron lands, Alabama today would have as perfect a system of public schools and higher institutions of learning as any other State in the Union. It lies in our power now to protect our rights in our invaluable water power, so that this generation and generations to be born may rise up and call us blessed for that we met our duty like men and protected our rights in the exhaustless reservoirs of our water powers. I do not want to be misunderstood; yet, I do not fear misunderstanding. I reiterate that all legal and constitutional rights in all property should be regarded as sacred. With the same fervor I declare that the same rights of this sovereign state and its citizens should be protected.

Respectfully submitted,
Oscar L. Tompkins.

The report was ordered spread upon the Journal of the House.

H. 679. To amend Section 10361 of the Code of Alabama of 1923.

H. 678. To amend Section 10362 of the Code of Alabama of 1923.

H. 599. To permit State officers to reduce the number of copies of their official reports, when printed.

H. 379. A Bill to be entitled an Act to provide and submit to the qualified electors of the State of Alabama, at an election to be held on the second Tuesday next after the expiration of three months from the date of the final adjournment of this session of the Legislature, an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Alabama whereby the municipal corporation of Citronelle, in the State of Alabama, may, through the governing body of said town, with the approval of a majority vote by ballot of the duly qualified electors of said town, voting at a general or special election called for that purpose, become indebted in an amount, over and above the amount of indebtedness said town is otherwise authorized by the Constitution and all other amendments thereto to incur, not exceeding four per centum of the assessed value of the property therein.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama is hereby proposed to be submitted to the qualified electors of the State of Alabama for their consideration and action at an election to be held on the second Tuesday next after the expiration of three months from the date of the final adjournment of this session of the Legislature. The proposed amendment is as follows:

The town of Citronelle may, through the governing body of said town, with the approval of a majority vote by ballot of the duly qualified electors of said town, voting at a general or special election called for that purpose, become indebted in an amount, over and above the amount of indebtedness said town is otherwise authorized by the Constitution and all other amendments thereto, to incur, not exceeding four per centum of the assessed value of the property therein. In calculating the indebtedness of said town, there shall not be included any classes of indebtedness which are not included in other provisions of the Constitution limiting the indebtedness of said town. Each election held under the provisions hereof shall be ordered, held, canvassed, and may be contested in the same manner as is or may be provided by the law applicable to municipal corporations for elections to authorize the issuance of municipal bonds. The ballots used at such election shall contain the words: "For an increase

And the voter shall record his choice, whether for or against the increase in indebtedness of the town of Citronelle, by placing a cross-mark before or after the words expressing his choice. Nothing herein contained shall in any wise change or affect the rights of any holder of bonds of said municipal corporation heretofore issued. Elections to authorize the incurring of such additional indebtedness may be held as often as ordered by the governing body of the municipality, but when a proposition is submitted to the electors to determine whether there shall be an increase in the indebtedness of the municipality, in a certain amount, and such proposition is defeated, no second election for the same purpose and submitting a proposition of increasing the indebtedness of said town in the same amount shall be held in one year thereafter.

Section 2. That notice of the election hereby ordered, together with a copy of the amendment hereby proposed shall be given by a proclamation of the Governor, which shall be published in one newspaper in each county in the State once a week for at least eight successive weeks next preceding the day hereby appointed for such election.

Section 3. The expenses of the election herein provided for and the cost of the publication of said notices shall be paid out of the State Treasury in the same manner as expenses of other elections are paid.

The proposed amendment is as follows:

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the Legislature of the State of Alabama when convened in its next session hereafter, to pass a local act providing in substance as follows:

A BILL

To be entitled An act to authorize Mobile county in this state, to increase its indebtedness for the purpose of constructing concrete or better than concrete surfaced public roads and concrete or better than concrete bridges in said county, and a way for vehicular traffic between Mobile and Baldwin counties; and to issue bonds therefor and to levy and collect taxes on property in Mobile county to pay for the same, and to provide for and regulate the holding of elections by the qualified voters of Mobile county to authorize such increase of indebtedness, issuance of bonds and levying of taxes, and for ascertaining and declaring the results of such election.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. That Mobile county, in the state of Alabama, when first authorized as hereinafter provided by a majority vote by ballot of the qualified voters of Mobile county voting upon such proposition, may become indebted and may issue bonds for the construction and improvement of concrete or better than concrete surfaced public roads and concrete or better than concrete public bridges in said county, and for the construction of bridges and roadways necessary to provide a public road for vehicular traffic between the highlands of Mobile and Baldwin counties in said state, provided, however, that the total amount of bonds at any one time outstanding shall not exceed six and one-half percentum of the assessed value at that time of the property situated in Mobile county.

Section 2. That, to pay the interest on any such indebtedness and on any such bonds, and to provide for the payment of the principal thereof at maturity, the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of Mobile county may, when first authorized as hereinafter provided by a majority vote by ballot of the qualified voters of Mobile county voting upon such proposition, annually levy and collect tax or taxes on all property situated in said county in an amount sufficient to pay the interest maturing during that year on all such bonds at that time outstanding, together with an amount sufficient to pay the principal of any serial bonds issued under the provisions of this act, maturing during such year; provided, however, that the total amount of taxes levied in any one year for the purposes aforesaid shall not exceed in the aggregate one-half of one percentum of the assessed value of the property situated in said county, according to the last completed assessment for state taxation.

Section 3. The bonds issued by such county under the authority of this act shall mature in annual installments. The number of installments and the amount of each installment shall be determined by the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners before the election hereinafter provided for is called, provided, however, that the number of annual installments shall not be less than ten nor more than thirty, and the first installment of principal shall fall due and be payable not later than one year after the date of issue, and the amount of the principal due in any year after the first year shall not exceed the amount of the principal due in the previous year by more than one thousand dollars, if the total amount of such issues does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars, and if the total amount of such issue exceeds one hundred thousand dollars, the amount of the principal due in any year after the first year shall not exceed the principal due in the previous year by more than five thousand dollars.

Such bonds may be issued either in registered or coupon form. If they are coupon bonds, they may be registered either as to principal or as to both principal and interest. The Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners may appoint a bank or trust company as registrar or transfer agent, and provide for the registration or transfer of bonds by such registrar or transfer agent. The form of such bond or bonds shall be as prescribed by the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county; and such bonds shall be payable at such place or places as the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county may, by resolution, designate.

Section 4. No such additional indebtedness shall be created under the terms of this act, and no such additional bonds shall be issued in accordance with this act, and no such additional tax shall be levied until each improvement or construction proposed to be built from the proceeds of such bond issue, its approximate location or locations, its estimated cost and the estimated time of its completion, and the amount of the proposed increase in indebtedness shall have been determined upon and made public by the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of Mobile County, in the manner hereinafter provided.

Section 5. The Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county shall, from time to time, determine what concrete surfaced or better than concrete surfaced public road or roads, and what concrete or better than concrete bridge or bridges are to be constructed or improved within said county under the terms of this act.

Concrete or better than concrete surfaced roads, within the meaning of this act, shall be constructed or improved with a surface composed of bits of gravel, broken stone or slag in large or small fragments, thoroughly mixed with a cementing material, such as asphalt, Portland cement, puzolian cement, or other cementing compound or compounds, and placed in such a manner as to create an artificial stone or other material of a definitely stable nature.

Section 6. The Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners when first authorized as herein provided by a majority vote by ballot of the qualified voters of said county voting upon such proposition, may incur such indebtedness and issue such bonds and levy such tax or taxes, by this act authorized, either for the purpose of paying the entire cost of the construction or improvement of one or more concrete or better than concrete road or roads, and the bridges connected therewith, and one or more concrete or better than concrete bridge or bridges, or may incur such indebtedness and issue such bonds and levy such tax or taxes, by this act authorized, for the purpose of paying such part of such construction or improvement as is not paid by the government of the United States of America or the Highway Department of the State of Alabama, or any other agency of the state of Alabama, and to that end may join with the United States of America or the state of Alabama, or both the United States of America and the state of Alabama, in the construction or improvement, and in paying for the construction or improvements, of any one or more such roads and bridges.

Section 7. Said board of revenue and road commissioners may determine upon the construction or improvement of only one such road, and the bridges connected therewith, or only one such bridge or the construction or improvement (as one project of construction and improvement) of one or more than one such bridge or bridges, and the construction or improvement of one or more such road or roads, and may determine upon the incurring of indebtedness, the issuance of bonds, and the levying of taxes, under the provisions of this act, for the payment of a part only of the cost of such construction or improvement of one or more such roads or bridges included in such improvement (where part of the cost thereof is paid by the state of Alabama or the United States of America) or the payment of the whole of the cost of such construction or improvement of one or more such roads or bridges included in such improvement; and, in any of such events, all the roads and bridges included in such plan of improvement or construction so determined upon by said board shall be deemed and held to be one "improvement or construction", within the meaning of this act.

Section 8. Before finally and formally adopting and agreeing upon any "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is hereinabove defined) said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners shall cause to be prepared by the County Engineer, or other engineer selected by said Board, (which engineer shall be a graduate in civil engineering of some recognized institute of technology or college or school of engineering, or be approved by the State Highway Department), preliminary maps of the road or roads, bridge or bridges, proposed to be included in such improvement, which maps shall show the approximate location and the proposed termini of each road and bridge included in such "improvement", together with a preliminary report of such engineer, stating which of such roads and bridges are to be constructed, and which of such roads and bridges are to be improved, and describing the general character of the materials to be used in the construction or improvement of each such road or bridge. Such report may set out and describe certain alternative types of surfacing or paving, or other materials proposed to be used in the construction or improvement of such road or roads, bridge or bridges. Such report of such engineer shall also contain a preliminary estimate of the cost of the construction or improvement of each road or bridge included in such "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is hereinbefore defined) together with an estimate of the total cost of all the roads or bridges included in such "improvement", and an estimate of the time which it will take to complete the construction or improvement of each road and the bridges connected therewith, and of each bridge not used in connection with a road embraced in such improvement.

Section 9. When such preliminary maps and reports have been prepared by the County Engineer, or other engineer employed by said Board, and have been submitted to said Board, said Board shall consider the same, and may either adopt and approve or reject the same, or cause such changes to be made therein as may seem proper in the judgment of said Board, Thereupon if the Board shall decide to engage in any "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is defined in this act), the Board shall, at a regular meeting of said Board, adopt resolutions setting forth the following:

1. The road or roads (together with the bridge or bridges to be constructed or improved in connection with such road or roads) to be constructed or improved in such "improvement";

2. The other bridge or bridges, if any, to be constructed or improved in such "improvement";

3. The approximate location and termini of each such road or roads, bridge or bridges;

4. Which of such road or roads, bridge or bridges, are to be constructed, and which are to be improved or surfaced;

6. The estimated cost of construction or surfacing or other improvement of each such road or bridge;

7. The estimated cost of construction or improvement, or both, of all the roads or bridges embraced in such "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is defined in this act);

10. What part of said total cost of construction or improvement of all the roads and bridges included in such "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is defined in this act) to be borne by the County of Mobile, and what part or parts are to be borne by the State of Alabama and the United States of America, respectively;

11. The total sum by which it is proposed to increase the indebtedness of Mobile County by reason of and for the construction or improvement of roads and bridges embraced in such "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is defined in this act);

12. The time which it is estimated it will take to complete the construction or improvement of each road or roads (together with the bridges to be constructed or improved in connection with such roads), and each other bridge embraced in such "improvement", and an estimate of the time which it will take to complete the construction or improvement of all the roads and bridges embraced in such "improvement".

The said resolution shall also state that the preliminary maps, hereinbefore provided for, and the preliminary report of such engineer are on file with the Clerk of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county, and are open to public inspection until the election hereinafter provided for is held; and said resolution may contain any other matter which the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners may desire to incorporate therein.

Said resolution, when so adopted by the Board, shall be published once a week for three consecutive weeks, in some newspaper published within the city of Mobile.

Section 10. Thereupon, the said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, at the same meeting at which the said Board adopts the resolution provided for in section 9 of this act, or at any adjournment of said meeting, or at any other regular meeting of said board held subsequent to the meeting at which the resolution provide for in Section 9 hereof is adopted, shall adopt a resolution or resolutions fixing the total amount of bonds which it is proposed to be issued by the county of Mobile, under the provisions of this act, for the purpose of paying the cost of the "improvement" as the word "improvement" is defined in this act) embraced in the resolution adopted by said Board in accordance with the provisions of Section 9 of this act, the total number of installments in which such bonds shall mature, and the amount of each installment within the limitations prescribed in Section 3 of this act) the form of such bonds the place of payment of installments of principal thereof and interest thereon, and the maximum rate of interest to be borne by such bonds, together with any other matter which the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners may decide to incorporate in such resolution.

At the same meeting of said Board, or any adjournment thereof, or at any subsequent regular meeting of said Board, the said board shall adopt a resolution or resolutions calling an election of the qualified electors of said county, for the purpose of submitting to such qualified voters of such county the question as to whether the indebtedness of Mobile county shall be increased by the sum stated in the resolution, and whether bonds of such county in an aggregate amount not to exceed such sum shall be issued by the county of Mobile, under the provisions of this act, and as to whether a tax shall be levied by said county annually, until all such bonds are paid in full, upon all the taxable property situated in said county, at a rate sufficient to provide for the payment, at maturity, of the interest on such bonds and the principal thereof.

No second election shall be called within six months respecting the same improvement after an election has been held with a result adverse to the increasing of such indebtedness, and the issuance of said bonds, and the levying of a tax sufficient to provide for the payment of interest and principal on said bonds at maturity, in respect of such improvement; but the board may, at any time after such election resulting adversely, determine upon an "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is defined in this act) in the manner hereinabove provided, call an election in respect thereof in the manner herein provided, and such improvement in respect of which such second election is called may include one or more of the roads or bridges included and embraced in the improvement in respect of which there was an election resulting adversely, but shall not include all of the roads and bridges embraced in the first improvement in respect of which the election resulted adversely, unless the construction and improvement of other roads and bridges are added thereto and included therein. The identical proposition shall not be presented to the voters within six months after an adverse election.

Section 11. Notice of such election shall be given for thirty days by publication in a newspaper published in the city of Mobile once a week for three successive weeks, which notice shall state the purpose for which the election is to be held and the time and place for holding the same, the maximum amount by which it is proposed to increase the indebtedness of Mobile county, the maximum rate of interest which such bonds shall bear, the maximum period within which such bonds shall mature, and the number of installments and the maturity and amount of each installment, and the "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is in this act defined) to be paid for by the proceeds of such bonds and the estimated rate of tax levy which, on the basis of the last assessment of taxable property in said county for purposes of state taxation, it will probably be necessary to levy in order to provide for the payment at maturity of the interest on and the principal of such bonds so proposed to be issued. The statement of such estimated rate of levy shall not operate to prevent the board from levying such tax in such an amount each year as may, from time to time, be necessary to provide for the payment, at maturity of principal and interest on such bonds, whether the amount so actually levied is more or less than the estimated rate stated in such notice of election, provided, however, that the total levy of tax in any one year for the purpose of paying principal and interest on all bonds issued under the provisions of this act, and at that time outstanding, shall not exceed one-half of one per cent. Such notice may also contain such other matter as the board of revenue and road commissioners may decide to incorporate in said notice. Such notice shall be signed by the Judge of Probate of said county or the chairman of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, or some member of such Board designated for that purpose by resolution of said Board. If no newspaper is published in said city, such notice may be published in any newspaper published in said county, and if there be no such newspaper published in said county, then the notice must be posted in five public places in the county, at least thirty days before the time of holding the election.

Section 12. The ballot used at such election must be prepared under the direction of the Probate Judge of Mobile county, and shall be substantially in the following form:

In all courts, said contest shall be a preferred case.

Section 18. The record of the result of such election, as returned by the Board of Canvassers, shall be recorded in the minutes of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county, and, when so recorded, the record shall be conclusive evidence of the matters therein stated, and of the validity of such election, unless contested as hereinabove provided.

Section 19. No action shall be commenced to test the validity of any such election, or to attack the issuance of bonds pursuant to such election, unless the said action be commenced within thirty days from the date of declaring the result of said election.

Section 20. If, at any election held under and according to the provisions of this act, a majority of the qualified electors of the county voting upon such proposition vote in favor of the increase of indebtedness and the issuance of bonds and the levying annually, until all such bonds are paid in full, a tax upon all the taxable property in said county, sufficient in amount to pay, at maturity, the interest upon such bonds and the principal thereof, then the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county may incur an additional indebtedness, and may issue bonds of such county, under the provisions of this act, in the amount and for the purpose mentioned in the notice of election hereinbefore provided for; and the said county may, thereafter, until all of the said bonds and the interest thereon, are paid in full, each year levy on all the taxable property in said county a tax at a rate and in an amount sufficient to provide for the payment, at maturity, of the interest on such bonds at that time outstanding, and the principal thereof at the time each installment of principal becomes due; provided, however, that the total amount of all the taxes levied under the provisions of this act in any one year shall not exceed one-half of one percentum of the total assessed value during that tax year of all the taxable property in said county, it being the intent and purpose of this section to authorize and require the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county each year to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest maturing during that year on all bonds theretofore issued under the provisions of this act, and at that time outstanding, and also sufficient to pay the installments of principal of such bonds theretofore issued which mature during that year, provided, however, that the total amount of all such taxes so levied under the provisions of this act (excluding, however, any tax levied under the provisions of any other act of the legislature or provisions of the constitution of the state of Alabama) shall not exceed, in the aggregate, in any one year, the rate of one-half of one percentum.

Section 21. All bonds and interest coupons attached to same issued under the provisions or authority of this act shall be exempt from state, county, and municipal taxation, and shall have all the protection of commercial paper, and such bonds and coupons shall, after the maturity thereof, be received in payment of all taxes and dues to the said county.

Section 22. No irregularity in the proceedings to authorize the issue of bonds under this act, and no omission or neglect of any officer charged with the execution of any duties imposed by this act, shall affect the validity of any bonds issued under authority of this act.

Section 23. Any bonds reciting that they are issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall, in any action or proceedings involving their validity, be conclusively deemed to be fully authorized by this act, and to have been issued, sold, executed, and delivered in conformity herewith, and with all other provisions of law applicable thereto, and shall be incontestible, anything herein or in other statutes to the contrary notwithstanding, unless such action or proceeding is begun before or within 30 days after the day upon which the bonds are delivered and paid for.

Section 24. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be signed by the chairman of the board of revenue and road commissioners of said county, or such other members thereof as may be by resolution of said board, specially designated for that purpose, and shall have impressed thereon the seal of said county, if, by resolution of said board, a special county seal has been adopted, and if no special seal has been adopted by the county, then the seal of the probate court of said county may be adopted and used as the county seal. Interest coupons attached to the bonds shall bear a facsimile signature of the county treasurer. The delivery of bonds so executed shall be valid, notwithstanding any changes in officers or in the seal of the county, occurring after the signing and sealing of the bonds.

Section 25. Where no provisions are otherwise made in this act, the general election laws of the state then in existence, with regard to all notices, qualifications of voters, official acts, and things to be done in connection with ordering and holding elections, making returns, canvassing and certifying the same, shall govern; and all penalties fixed for wrongful acts and violations of the general election laws of the state shall apply to similar acts and violations in all elections held under this law.

Section 26. All bonds issued under the terms of this act shall be sold to the highest bidder at public sale, unless sold within thirty days after failure to receive any legally acceptable bid at a duly advertised public sale, in accordance with this section. A public sale shall be either on sealed bids or at auction. The notice of the public sale shall state whether the sale is to be on sealed bids or at auction, and shall also state the amount of the bonds to be sold, the maturities thereof, the amount payable at each maturity and either the rate of interest which the bonds are to bear, or that the bidders are invited to name the rate of interest in their bids, and shall also state the time and place of sale, or for submitting sealed bids. Such notice shall be published once in each of three consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in said county, and also in a newspaper published in each of the cities of New York and Chicago, and may be published in such other newspapers as may be ordered by the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county. The first of such three publications shall be not less than twenty days before the last date for submitting bids, if the sale is on sealed bids, or the date of sale if the sale is at auction. Said Board shall have the right to reject all bids. If no legally acceptable bids are received at any such public sale, the bonds may be sold at private sale, provided such private sale occurs within thirty days after the date fixed for said public sale, but no such private sale shall be made at a price less than the highest bid received at said public sale.

In determining the highest bidder for bonds offered for sale, the net interest cost to the county, as shown in standard bond value tables, shall govern, provided, however, that the determination of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners as to which bidder is the highest bidder shall be final, conclusive, and binding upon all persons whomsoever.

Section 27. The proceeds of the sale of any bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be used only for the purposes for which the bonds are issued, provided, however, that if, for any reason, any part of such proceeds be not necessary for such purposes, such unexpended part of the proceeds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of said bonds. The cost of preparing, issuing, and marketing bonds, including all legal services in connection therewith, the cost of all engineering services in connection with the preliminary maps, and preliminary engineer's reports hereinbefore provided, the cost of the publication of the resolution of said Board, provided for in section 9 of this act, the cost of notice of and the holding of all elections required by this act, and the canvassing of returns, as hereinabove provided, and all costs and expenses incident to the construction or improvement for which the bonds are issued, including engineering costs legal fees, incidental expenses, and interest during construction, shall be deemed to be purposes for which the bonds are issued, and such costs shall be payable out of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds.

Section 28. No road shall be included in any such "improvement" (as the word "improvement" is hereinabove defined) except such as are public roads at the time, or such as may be designated as public roads, in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the state of Alabama.

Section 29. If any sentence, clause, or section of this act shall be held unconstitutional, this shall not affect any other section of this act, it being the intention of the Legislature, in enacting this law to enact each section separately.

Section 30. All laws or parts of laws, general or local, in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed, insofar as the same affect the operation of this act. This act shall take effect upon passage and approval by the Governor.

"Board of Commissioners,
"Seawall District No. 1.

"I hereby consent to and confirm the assessment of dollars ($.....) against the following described land owned by me and situated in the county of Mobile, state of Alabama (here insert description of land, as described in the assessment), and hereby agree that by reason of the improvements contemplated and to be made in accordance with the improvement plan adopted by the Board of Commissioners of Seawall District Number One of Mobile County, Alabama, on the day of 19....., if said improvements are completed in substantial compliance with the plans and specifications of such improvement on file with the said Board of Commissioners of said district, said property will be increased in value by said sum, and I, for myself, my heirs, successors and assigns, in consideration of my being granted the privilege of paying said assessment in equal annual installments, hereby agree to pay each installment, when the same becomes due, to the Tax Collector of Mobile County, Alabama, for the use of said District, and also agree to pay annually interest at the rate of not exceeding eight per cent per annum on the amount of the assessment remaining unpaid at the beginning of the previous year.

"This instrument shall in no way impair or affect the lien of such assessment on said property.

"(Signed)
(Seal).

"Witness:

Such instrument shall be signed by the owner or owners of the land in respect of which it is desired to have the privilege of paying such assessment in installments, and shall be witnessed by two witnesses, and shall be delivered to the President of the Board of Commissioners of said District, within the time above limited.

Such instrument shall be recorded in the office of the Judge of Probate of Mobile County, in the same manner as miscellaneous contracts respecting lands are recorded, and the recording fees shall be included in, and paid in, the same manner as other costs of construction.

Section 31. At such meeting, the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county shall hear and pass upon all objections and protests filed within the time above limited, against such proposed assessments. All such exceptions shall be heard and determined by the said Board in a summary manner so as to carry out liberally the purposes of such improvement and the needs of the district.

The said Board may issue subpoenas for witnesses to appear before said Board, and may administer oaths to such witnesses, to be examined and may adopt such reasonable rules and regulations as the said board may deem proper."

If no exceptions are filed, the said Board shall approve and confirm the assessments made in said Book of Assessments. If exceptions or objections are filed, and if the said Board should find that any or all such objections should be sustained, it shall change and correct the said book in accordance with its findings, entering the amount of assessment against each piece, parcel, lot, tract, or other subdivision of land included in said book, in accordance with its findings.

In order that the total amount of such assessments may equal the total cost of such improvements, as such cost is defined in Section 11 of this act, the said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners may, if any assessment is reduced, increase assessments against any other pieces, parcels, lots, tracts, or other subdivisions of land within the limits defined in Section 9 hereof, provided the total sum assessed against each such piece, parcel, lot, tract, or other subdivision of land does not exceed the increased value of such piece, parcel, lot, tract, or other subdivision of land derived or to be derived by reason of such improvement, and does not exceed its improvement, and does not exceed its proportionate parts of said cost of construction.

In the event the said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners should determine to increase any assessment above the amount originally stated in the Assessment Book delivered to the Judge of Probate as hereinbefore provided, the Judge of Probate shall before such increased assessment is made by said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners notify the person named in said Assessment Book as the owner thereof, in writing, that the said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners propose to increase such assessment, stating the amount of such increase, and requiring such person, within a day certain, not less than ten days after the day when such notice is mailed, to file, in writing, with the Chairman of said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners any objections which he, she, or it may have to such proposed increase.

If no written protest to such increased assessment is filed within the time limited in said notice, such person or persons shall be held and deemed to have consented to such increased assessment or assessments.

If any such protest against such increased assessment is filed within the time limited, such protest shall be heard and determined in the same manner as protests against original assessments.

The said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners may recess or adjourn, from time to time, until the consideration of said Assessment Book is finally completed.

Each member of said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners shall receive fifteen dollars ($15.00) per day for each day while attending or serving on said Board in connection with the hearing of objections to, and the approval of, such Assessment Book, plus his reasonable expenses in traveling to and from the county seat. Such fees and expenses shall be paid out of the general funds of said county.

When all objections have been finally determined by the said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, the said Board shall, by order, approve said Assessment Book, as corrected, and shall enter upon the Minutes of said Board a copy of the order approving said Assessment Book, and shall append at the end of said book a certificate signed by the Chairman of said Board, certifying that the said Assessment Book, as changed by the said Board, if any objections have been made, has been finally approved by said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of Mobile County.

Thereupon each assessment against each respective piece, parcel, lot tract or other subdivision of land shall constitute a lien upon each such respective piece, parcel, lot, tract, or other subdivision of land superior to all other liens except those of the state and county for taxes. Such order shall have all the force and effect of a judgment against the piece, parcel, lot, tract, or other subdivision of land against which the assessment is levied, and shall be deemed final, conclusive, binding, and incontestable, except by direct appeal, as in this act provided.

Section 32. Neither the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners nor the Board of Commissioners of said District shall have power to reduce or abate an assessment made as herein provided, after such assessment shall have been made final, unless an appeal shall have been taken from such assessment, as herein provided. The Board of Commissioners of said District may transfer and assign the lien of any such assessment to the contractor or contractors, who make such improvements, or to his or its or their successors or assigns, or to any holder or to some other person as trustee for the benefit of any holder or holders of any improvement bonds issued as herein provided.

Section 33. Any person aggrieved by the action of the said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners in making any assessment hereunder may, within ten days thereafter, appeal to the Circuit Court of said county, or any other court of like jurisdiction, by filing with the Clerk of the Circuit Court of said county, within said period of ten days, an affidavit of appeal, stating the special matter appealed from, together with a bond, with sureties to be approved by the Clerk of the Circuit Court, of said county, in double the amount of such assessment, and probable costs of appeal, payable to the Board of Commissioners of said district, and conditioned to prosecute said appeal to effect, and to pay the amount of such assessment as finally may be levied against the property described in the appeal, and also if such assessment be not reduced on such appeal, the cost of such appeal including a reasonable attorneys fee for the attorney or attorneys for the Board of Commissioners of said District.

Such appeal shall affect only the particular tract or parcel of land concerning which said appeal is taken. On appeal, only the special matter set up in said affidavit of appeal shall be considered by said Circuit Court or other court of like jurisdiction. If no appeal is taken within said ten days, any such assessment fixed by said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners shall be deemed final, conclusive, and binding upon said land, and said assessment or assessments shall not be subject to collateral attack. The Board of Commissioners of said District, on behalf of said district, may likewise appeal from any order of said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, if it be aggrieved, but in that event the said Board of Commissioners of said District shall not be required to execute any bond.

Section 34. Such appeals shall be docketed in said Circuit Court and shall be preferred cases therein.

Section 35. Upon the filing with and the approval of the appeal bond, the Clerk of said Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, upon notice thereof, shall immediately send to the Clerk of said Circuit Court or other court to which the appeal may be taken a transcript of all the proceedings of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners relating to such assessment or assessments, so far as same concerns the property of appellant. Such transcript shall contain a description of the land of such party or parties, the same to be described according to the description on the assessment, the name of the owner or owners of such land and the amount of the assessment or assessments.

Upon the hearing of such appeal, introduction of such transcript and papers shall be prima facie evidence of the correctness of such assessment or assessments. Said cause or causes may be tried on the record without other pleadings and the court shall hear all objections of the land owner or owners to such assessment or assessments, and the amount or amounts thereof, and shall fix and determine the proper amount of such assessment.

Such trial shall be without a jury unless the person or Board taking the appeal shall endorse on the affidavit of appeal before or at the time said affidavit of appeal is filed with the Clerk of the Circuit Court a demand for jury trial, in which event the trial shall be by jury, as in common law cases.

Section 36. An appeal may be taken to the Supreme Court of Alabama by any person interested in said property, from the judgment rendered by the Circuit Court or other court of like jurisdiction, within thirty days from the date of such judgment, upon giving bond for costs of appeal, or, if supersedeas be desired, upon giving further bond in double the amount of the assessment so fixed by said Circuit Court or court of like jurisdiction, payable to the Board of Commissioners of said district, with sufficient sureties to be approved by the Clerk of said Circuit Court, conditioned to pay the amount of such assessment or assessments or perform such judgment as the Supreme Court may render in the premises, and all such costs and damages as the said district may have sustained, including a reasonable attorney's fee for the attorney or attorneys for said district, if the judgment is affirmed.

Section 37. Such appeal shall be heard in the Supreme Court upon the record and bill of exceptions reserved by the party taking such appeal, setting out such evidence as may be necessary to a fair presentation of the case, and all such appeals shall be preferred cases in the Supreme Court.

Section 38. In the event a supersedeas bond has been given, and the said case is affirmed by the Supreme Court, it shall add to the judgment rendered by the lower court interest thereon and ten per cent damages for delay.

Section 39. The Board of Commissioners of said district may appeal, also, from any decree of said Circuit Court or other court of like jurisdiction, without giving bond, and all appeals taken pursuant to this act shall be preferred cases in the Supreme Court.

Section 40. In the event final judgment is rendered in favor of the said district, execution may be issued thereon against the principal and sureties on the appeal bond, unless the amount of the judgment and decree, together with interest thereon and all court costs, are paid within five days from the date of such judgment, and the court shall, by further order, decree that the property assessed be sold to satisfy such judgment unless such payment first be made. Nothing contained in this act shall operate to release or discharge the lien on such property unless and until the assessment, plus interest thereon and all court costs, are fully paid.

Section 41. All assessments made in accordance with the terms of this act shall be paid in cash within thirty days after the final assessment, unless the owner of such property shall have elected to pay same in installments at the time and in the manner and upon the conditions set out in Section 30 of this act.

Section 42. All assessments or installments thereof shall be payable at the office of the tax collector of Mobile County, and all assessments and installments thereof shall bear interest at seven per cent per annum after the expiration of thirty days from the date on which same is made final, which interest shall be due and payable at the time and place the assessment or installment is due and payable. In all cases where the property owner, having elected to pay in installments, fails to pay the first installment within thirty days from the date of assessment, he shall be held to have waived the right to pay in installments, and the entire assessment shall, at the expiration of said thirty days, become due and payable.

Section 43. If the property owner who has not elected to pay in installments fails to pay his assessment or assessments within thirty days, or, having elected to pay in instalments, fails to pay the first installment within thirty days from the date of such assessment or assessments, or makes default in the payment of any annual installment, or the interest thereon, the whole of such assessment or assessments, with interest thereon to original maturity thereof, shall immediately become due and payable and the tax collector of Mobile County shall proceed to sell the property against which such assessment or assessments is or are made to the highest bidder for cash, but he shall first give notice by publication once a week for three consecutive weeks, in some newspaper published in the district or of general circulation therein, of the date, place, and time of such sale and the purpose for which the same is made, together with a description of the property to be sold.

If said officer shall fail to advertise and sell any property on which payments or installments are past due, any owner of property in said district, or any holder of bonds of the series affected by such failure, whether of bonds theretofore issued or thereafter issued, shall have the right to apply for a writ of mandamus, requiring said official to take such action to any court of competent jurisdiction, and said court shall, on proof, issue and enforce such writ.

Section 44. Any property owner may pay said assessment or assessments, with interest and all costs, at any time before the sale of the property affected thereby.

Section 45. The cost of such advertisement and sale shall constitute a charge against said property to be sold, and shall be retained out of the proceeds of sale by said officer incurring said expense.

Section 46. The officer making such sale shall execute a deed to the purchaser, which shall convey all the right, title, and interest which the party against whose property the assessment was made had or held in said property at the date of making such assessment or on the date of making such sale. Any surplus arising from such sale shall be paid over to the county treasurer, or to the county depository, if there be no treasurer, to be kept as a separate fund for the assessed owner of the property, or his assigns, upon the responsibility of the official bond of such treasurer or county depository. The district may, by its agent, purchase real property sold as provided herein, and in the event of such purchase, the deed for the same shall be made to the district in its corporate name.

No bid shall be accepted with respect to any piece, parcel, lot, or other subdivision of land which is not equal to the total of all assessments levied against same, and costs.

In the event no bidder at such sale bids for any piece, parcel, lot, or other subdivision of land an amount equal to the amount of the assessment levied against same, and costs, then it shall be struck off to Seawall District No. 1 of Mobile County, Alabama, and the Board of Commissioners of said district shall have power, at any time thereafter, to sell such piece, parcel, lot, or other subdivision of land, at public or private sale for the sum equal to the amount of assessments levied against same, costs and interest.

Section 47. Such property may be redeemed by the owner or his assigns, or other persons authorized to redeem property sold for taxes in the state of Alabama, within two years from the date of sale, by paying to the purchaser or to the county treasurer, or county depository, if there be no treasurer, for him, the amount for which the property was sold, with interest thereon at the rate of fifteen per centum per annum from the date of sale, together with a fee of two dollars ($2.00) for the expense of a conveyance.

Section 48. No mistake in said publication of the description of such property or in the name of the owner or owners shall vitiate such assessment or assessments, or such lien, and if, for any reason, the sale made for failure to pay such assessment or any sum due thereon be ineffectual to pass such title as such sale could otherwise lawfully pass, it shall operate as an assignment of such lien, and upon the request of the purchaser or purchasers, supplementary proceedings of the same general character as herein prescribed may be had to correct such error or errors in said proceedings for his or their benefit, or such lien so assigned to him or them may be enforced in equity.

Section 49. Neither the failure of any officer or persons charged by this bill with the duty to mail any notice, nor the failure of any person to receive said notice, shall in any manner affect the validity of any proceeding authorized in this act.

Section 50. It shall be the duty of the tax collector of said county to collect the assessments or the installments thereof, if payable in installments as and when the same become due, together with interest thereon. If any such assessment (if not payable in installments) or any such installment remains unpaid when the owner or owners of such property offers or offer to pay state and county taxes on said property, and if any collector shall fail, when collecting such state and county taxes, to collect such seawall assessment installment or installments past due at that date, along with the state and county taxes, he shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each such instance, unless such seawall assessment has been enjoined by a court of competent jurisdiction.

The tax collector of said county shall receive a commission of one per cent for his services in making such collection, and for his service in selling property to enforce the lien of such assessment, he shall be allowed the same fees as are allowed by law for the sale of property for state and county taxes.

On the tenth of each month, the county tax collector shall turn over to the treasurer of said Board of Commissioners of said district the amount collected by him during the previous month on account of assessments or installments levied and collected in accordance with the terms of this act, less the amount of his fees and commissions, as herein provided. He shall, at the same time, deliver to the treasurer of said Board of Commissioners of said District a statement showing the persons and the property in respect of which such collections have been made, and a statement of all fees and commissions so deducted by him. When any assessment or installment thereon is paid to him, he shall enter the fact of such payment on the Assessment Book. He shall keep among the records of his office a well bound book which shall contain an account of all of his collection, fees, any payments to the treasurer of said district. Said book shall be a public record, open to inspection at all times.

The tax collector shall be liable on his official bond or bonds for any misappropriation or loss of the funds collected by him in respect of such assessments or installments or sale of property to enforce such assessments.

Section 51. The treasurer of said Board of Commissioners of said District shall be allowed a commission not exceeding one-half of one per cent upon all sums lawfully paid out by him, in accordance with the orders of the Board of Commissioners of said District, but he shall pay out no money save upon an order of the said Board and upon a warrant signed by the president and secretary of the Board of Commissioners of said District. Every warrant so paid shall state upon its face to whom paid, the amount of same, and the purpose for which same was paid. All warrants shall be dated and numbered consecutively in the record to be kept by the Board of Commissioners of said District of the number and amount of such warrants so used, and no warrant shall be paid by the treasurer unless there is in hand sufficient funds to pay all outstanding warrants bearing a lower number. The treasurer shall give bond or bonds in the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) payable to the Board of Commissioners of said District, and conditioned on the faithful performance of his duties as such treasurer, and upon efficiently keeping and disbursing the funds which may come into his hands. The premiums upon said bond or bonds shall be paid out of the funds derived from the special assessments in this act provided for, and shall be part of the cost of such improvement or improvements made during the term covered by such premium.

Section 52. If the assessments first levied shall prove insufficient to complete the improvement or improvements, additional assessments shall be levied in the same manner as is herein provided for the initial assessment, provided, however, that the total assessments shall in no case exceed the increased value of the parcel of land against which such assessments is made by reason of the special benefits derived or to be derived from such improvement or improvements, as such increased value is determined and fixed in this act provided.

Section 53. As soon as assessments covering the estimated cost of any improvement have been made final, as in this act provided, the Board of Commissioners of said District may issue and sell bonds for such an amount as may be necessary to pay the cost of such improvement or improvements, as such cost is defined in Section 11 of this act.

Section 54. The bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be payable at such place or places as the Board of Commissioners of said District may designate. They shall run serially over a period of years corresponding in number with the number of equal annual installments which the Commissioners may have theretofore, as hereinabove provided, determined that the assessments of the cost of said improvement may be paid by election of the property owner, as hereinafter provided.

The serial installments shall be approximately equal in amount and the maximum amount of bonds maturing in any one year shall not exceed the minimum amount of such bonds maturing in any one year by more than one thousand dollars, provided that if the amount of bonds in any one issue exceeds one hundred thousand dollars, the said maximum amount of bonds maturing in any one year shall not exceed the minimum amount maturing in any one year by more than five thousand dollars. Such bonds shall bear interest at the rate of not exceeding seven per centum per annum, payable semi-annually.

Section 55. Bonds issued under this act may be issued either in registered or coupon form. If they are coupon bonds, they may be registerable either as to principal or as to both principal and interest. The Board of Commissioners of said District may appoint a bank or trust company as registrar or transfer agent, and provide for the registration or transfer of bonds by such transfer agent.

Section 56. The Board of Commissioners of said District may provide by resolution ordering the construction of any improvements, or by subsequent resolution or order, that the bonds issued or to be thereafter issued, to pay for such improvement or improvements may, upon the completion and acceptance of such work, be issued to the contractor or contractors in payment of part payment of the contract price of such work.

Section 57. No bonds issued under the authority of this act shall be sold until they have been first offered at public sale. Notice of such sale shall be given by publication once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the district, if there is a newspaper published in such district, and, if not, in a newspaper having general circulation therein. The first newspaper notice shall appear not less than ten days prior to the date of sale. The notice shall contain a statement of the amount of bonds to be sold, the maximum rate of interest they are to bear, the date of maturity of the bonds, and the time and place of sale. Sealed proposals shall be received and opened at a public meeting, but the Board of Commissioners of said District may, after receipt of sealed proposals reject all bids. The Board of Commissioners of said District shall have the right to reject any and all bids. If no bids satisfactory to the Board of Commissioners of said District be received, the bonds may be sold at private sale, but no such private sale may be made at a price less than the highest bid received and offered at public sale.

The Board of Commissioners of said District may delegate its power to sell bonds to a committee of not less than two members of said Board, but every private sale of bonds shall be made and confirmed by a majority of the members of said Board, at a regular meeting or special meeting called for that purpose, after due notice is given.

Any bidder for bonds or other securities may name in his bid a lower interest rate than that fixed in the advertisement, and the Board of Commissioners of said District, upon acceptance of such a bid, may issue bonds in accordance therewith.

In determining the highest bidder for bonds offered for sale, the net interest cost to the district, as shown in standard bond value tables, shall govern. The finding of the Board as to highest bidder shall be final, conclusive, and binding upon all persons whomsoever.

Any bonds reciting that they are issued pursuant to this act shall, in any action or proceeding involving their validity, be conclusively deemed to be fully authorized by this act, and to have been issued, sold, executed, and delivered in conformity herewith, and with all other provisions of statutes applicable thereto, and shall be incontestable, anything herein or in other statutes to the contrary notwithstanding, unless such action or proceeding is begun within thirty days after the date of the bond resolution provided for in the next section of this act, if they are sold at public sale, or, if sold at private sale, within thirty days after the publication of the resolution authorizing the sale of said bonds at private sale; or, if delivered to the contractor or contractors in payment of work within thirty days after the publication of the resolution or resolutions authorizing the delivery of such bonds to the contractor or contractors in payment of work. All resolutions authorizing the sale of bonds at private sale, and all resolutions authorizing the issuance and delivery of bonds to a contractor or contractors in payment of work shall be published once in a newspaper published within said county having general circulation in said District.

Section 58. All bonds issued under the terms of this act shall be authorized by resolution or resolutions passed by the vote of majority of the Board of Commissioners of said District. Such resolutions shall set out the form of the bond or bonds to be issued, and shall also state:

(a) In brief and general terms, the purpose or purposes of the bond issue;

(b) The maximum amount of money to be raised by the issue;

(c) The maximum rate of interest the bonds shall bear;

(d) The number of installments in which the bonds shall mature, which must not exceed the installments hereinbefore set forth.

A copy of such resolutions shall be published once in a newspaper published in the county, of general circulation in said District.

Section 59. As soon as said bonds have been sold, the Board of Commissioners of said District shall notify the bidder or bidders whose bids have been tentatively accepted of the fact that said bonds have been sold and the contractor or contractors shall thereupon execute the contract for said improvements and proceed with the work covered thereby. If and in the event said bonds are, by resolution or order of said Board, to be delivered to the contractor or contractors in payment of work, such contractor or contractors shall proceed with the work immediately upon the expiration of thirty days after the publication of the resolution or resolutions authorizing the delivery of such bonds to the contractor or contractors in payment for work.

Section 60. When the Board of Commissioners of said District receive any funds whether from proceeds of sale of bonds, collection of assessments, or otherwise, they shall deposit such fund in such solvent bank or banks as will pay the highest rate of interest thereon on current deposits. Before designating such a depository or depositories or bank, the Board of Commissioners of said District shall report the selection of such bank or banks as depositories to the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, and the selection shall be approved in writing by the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, and said order shall be duly entered on the records of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners. Warrants may be drawn on such bank, and all warrants so drawn shall be signed by the president and treasurer of the Board of Commissioners of said District.

Section 61. The proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized to be issued by this act shall be applied only to the payment of the cost of the improvement designated in the resolution or resolutions providing for their issuance.

Section 62. The treasurer of said Board of Commissioners of said District shall be liable on his official bond for any diversion of any funds received by him as proceeds from any sale of bonds to any purpose other than to the payment of the cost of improvement or improvements, as in this act provided, and the county tax collector and the treasurer shall be liable on their respective official bonds to any holder of the bonds authorized to be issued under this act from any loss or injury to such bond-holder caused by the diversion by said respective officers, or either of them, respectively, or any money received from the collection of assessments, penalties, and interest (after deducting the fees herein provided) to any other purpose than the payment of the bonds and interest coupons, and other indebtedness herein authorized to be paid out of said funds.

Section 63. The moneys collected on account of assessments, penalties, and interest shall be applied:

First, to the payment of the interest on the then outstanding bonds issued in respect of such assessments;

Second, to the payment of the annual installment of bonds then due.

Section 64. In the event the amount collected from the assessments under any improvement resolution or resolutions shall exceed the total cost and expense of such improvement or improvements, there shall be refunded to each of the parties affected by said assessment or assessments a proportionate amount of the excess on demand made therefor after maturity or payment of the bonds authorized by this act. If such claims be not presented within twelve months from the date of the maturity or payment of the last installment of such bonds, they shall be forever barred, and such amounts shall be converted to the general improvement fund of the said district.

Section 65. Whenever, in the judgment of the Board of Commissioners of said District, it may be necessary or expedient for the carrying out and full exercise of the powers hereby granted, such Board may acquire, by purchase or condemnation, the necessary lands, or rights or easements or interest therein, thereunder, and thereafter, and may proceed to condemn the same in the manner provided by the general laws of this state governing the taking of lands or the acquiring of an interest therein for the uses for which private property may be taken, in which case such proceedings shall be governed in every respect by the general laws of the state pertaining thereto.

Section 66. If any bond or interest coupon, or other negotiable evidence of debt issued by the Board of Commissioners of said District, is not paid within thirty days after maturity, it shall be the duty of any Circuit Court having application of any holder of such bond or bonds, or interest coupon or coupons, or other negotiable evidence of debt so everdue to appoint a receiver to collect the assessments aforesaid, and if there be a deficit, the Court may provide for and make additional assessments after due hearing, against the land within the limits defined in Section 9 hereof, in an amount sufficient to make up such deficit, provided, however, that each such assessment, together with the prior assessments, shall not exceed the increased value of such land by reason of the special benefits derived by same from and by reason of such improvement. The proceeds of all such assessments and collections shall be applied, after the payment of costs of such proceedings, first to the overdue interest, and then to the payment pro rata of all bonds issued by the said Board of Commissioners of said District which are then due and payable. The said receiver may be directed by such court to foreclose the lien of assessment on any or all of said property, and any suit so brought by a receiver shall be conducted in all matters as a suit by the Board of Commissioners of said District, and with like effect, and decrees and deeds therein shall have full force and effect, provided, however, that when all sums of money due on said bonds and coupons and other evidences of debt have been fully paid, the receiver shall be discharged, and the affairs of the district shall thereafter be conducted by the Board of Commissioners of said District.

Section 67. Annually during the month of September, the Board of Commissioners of said District shall file with the clerk of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county a statement showing the collection made and moneys received from all sources whatsoever, the amount paid out, with proper vouchers for such payments, and such statement shall lie over for one month from the date of filing for examination and adjustment. The Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners of said county shall proceed to examine such statement at its first regular, special, or adjourned meeting after the expiration of one month from the date of said filing, and shall disallow all unjust charges and credits, if any there be, and readjust said settlement whenever an improper item appears in said settlement and such adjustment may be finally subject to a re-examination in a court of equity for error, mistake or fraud upon suit brought by the Board of Commissioners of said District, or by any tax payer of such district, or anyone else having a pecuniary interest therein. All settlements, when finally approved, shall be indexed by the clerk of the Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners and filed away as public documents.

Section 68. No commissioners or assessors shall be liable to any one for mistake or errors of judgment or negligence, but only for willful misconduct in the discharge of their duties.

Section 69. It shall be unlawful for the Board of Commissioners of said District formed under authority of this act or any officer, agent, or employee thereof corruptly to use, dispose of in any manner any bond or money arising from the sale thereof, or any fund of such district, and any commissioners, employees, or agent, whomsoever, violating the provisions of this act, as herein enumerated, shall be guilty of a felony and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary not less than one nor more than five years. That every member of such Board of Commissioners of said District who shall fail to make the settlement or settlements as required by the terms of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500.00), and in addition thereto, may be imprisoned for a period not to exceed sixty (60) days.

Section 70. As soon as bonds have been sold to provide funds for the payment of the cost of any improvement, the treasurer of said Board of Commissioners of said District shall reimburse the general fund of the County of Mobile for all fees and expenses actually paid out of said general fund under the provisions of this act, and such sum shall be included in the cost of such particular improvement.

Section 71. The various officers of the county shall receive for services for which fees are not specially provided in this act the same fees as are received for similar services performed for the state or county, and said fees shall be paid out of the general revenues of said county.

Section 72. If any sentence, clause, or section of this act shall be held unconstitutional, this shall not affect any other section of this act, it being the intention of the Legislature in enacting this law to enact each section separately.

Section 73. All laws or parts of laws, general or local, in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed, insofar as the same affect the operation of this act. This act shall take effect upon passage and approval by the Governor.

The petition may be signed by women, married or single, by guardians for their wards, trustees, executors, administrators for estates, and corporations under their seal; that the order of the Board establishing said district shall have the effect of a judgment and shall be deemed conclusive, final and binding upon all territory embraced in the district, and shall not be subject to collateral attack, but any land owner in the district may appeal within thirty days to the Circuit Court, and may likewise appeal from an order refusing to establish such district, or eliminating territory therefrom, but such appeal shall not delay the proceedings for carrying out the proposed improvements; for the naming of the district, and that it shall become a body politic and corporate under said name, and may sue and be sued, and have perpetual succession for the purpose of building, constructing, maintaining and repairing roads in said district; for the taking of oath of office by the Board of Commissioners for the organization of the Board, election of its officers and that they shall receive expenses while engaged on business for the district out of the county. Said amount to be paid out of the funds of the Road Improvement District. They are also authorized to engage the necessary attorneys engineers, and other agents for carrying out the improvements, contemplated, and fix their pay; that as soon as the Commissioners have formulated the plans for the road or roads of the district, and ascertained the cost thereof they shall report to the County Commissioners, who at their first meeting thereafter shall appoint assessors for the district; for time of meeting of assessors, election of officers, oath, quorum, filling of vacancies should any decline, their removal, if necessary by the Board of County Commissioners, and pay to be fixed by the same body of not exceeding $5.00 per day; for assessment book, manner of assessing, and maximum amount, not exceeding benefits as aforesaid; for the assessors also assessing damages accruing to any owner, payment thereof, or reduction of assessment in proportion for the filing of said assessments with the Board of Commissioners, who in turn shall file same in the office of the clerk of the Court, who shall give notice of same to enable parties interested to make objections at the time fixed by the Commissioners Court, also of assessment of damages, both to be determined by said court; that after the hearing the Court shall enter its findings, which shall be incontestable, except by direct attack on appeal; appeal by aggrieved party on filing affidavit within ten days; for the embracing of other land in the district, if benefited, and proceeding for the inclusion and assessment, which are similar to those for including land in the district as originally formed authorizing the Commissioners to make changes in plans and specifications for the route of the road or construction of laterals, or extensions within, or beyond the district, having the engineer to make plans and estimates, filing his report in the Court of County Commissioners, which shall direct the Clerk to give notice in a

Appeal may be taken as provided in Section 14; authorizing the commissioners, not oftener than once a year, to reassess, which shall be advertised, revised and confirmed, as in the case of original assessment, and with a like effect, but if the district has issued interest bearing evidence of the debt, the total amount of the assessed benefits shall not be diminished; that the Commissioners Court at the time the assessment of benefits is filed with it, by the Commissioners of the district, enter upon its record and order, which shall have all of the force and effect of a judgment, providing that there shall be collected from the land in the district, such portion of the assessment as shall be sufficient to pay the estimated cost of the improvement with ten percent added for unforeseen contingencies, which assessment is to be paid by the land of the district in proportion to the amount of the assessment of benefits thereon in annual instalments. The assessment so levied shall be a preferred lien on the land, except as to taxes. Appeal may be taken as provided in section fourteen, but presumption will be in favor of the legality of the assessment. Any owner of property in the district may by mandamus compel the court to comply with this section; that under resolution of the Board of Commissioners, specifying the number of assessments, they shall be paid in annual installments, which resolution shall cover the whole period in which assessments are to be collected, and a copy thereof transmitted to the County Tax Assessor. The resolution shall state the percent of the benefits to be extended on the county books each year, and collected by the tax collector, with usual taxes. In paying the assessments provided for, or any cost or penalty the grantee shall pay those not due at the time of the transfer; that the tax collector of the county shall receive a commission of one percent for his services in making collection, such collections to be paid over by him to the treasurer of said county, or depository. The selection of the bank must be first reported to the Court, as also the bond for such funds. Said funds may be withdrawn on warrants signed by the president and secretary of the Board, or someone else duly authorized by proper resolution; for the levy of additional assessments when necessary the total amount not to exceed amount of special benefits before stated; for a penalty of twenty-five percent in case assessments are not paid by the time fixed for payment of county taxes, which may be collected by suit brought by Board of Commissioners in the Circuit Court, such proceedings shall be in re and it is immaterial if the ownership of the land is not correctly stated, but it shall have no force, except as against the land. Provides for giving of notice by publication, form of notice and complaint; for the proceedings in court, sale of the land, fee of commissioners, attorneys, and cost; provisions as to suit, according to the practice and procedure of the Circuit Court, except as otherwise provided, in the act, which shall be liberally construed to give to said assessment list the effect of bona fide mortgages, and first lien on the land and that no informality or irregularity in holding any meeting provided for herein, or in any description, valuation, or assessment of the property, or in the name of the owner, number of acres or manner of assessment shall be a valid defense to such action, and for purchase of the property in the name of the Improvement District if no one else bids amount due. At any time within three years after the rendition of final decree the owner may show the payment of assessment for the year for which the land was sold, which will vacate the decree, or the owner may redeem the property within one year; authorizing the Board of Commissioners to issue bonds, or negotiable evidences of debt, for the purpose of securing money with which to carry out and perfect the work of improvement.

No bonds to run for more than thirty years, and may be so divided as to make a portion thereof mature each year as assessments are collected, or may all be payable at the same time, principal and interest to be secured by lien on the land in the district. Said Commissioners to set aside sufficient from the revenue collected to make provision for the interest and payment of the bonds; giving the Commissioners authority to build such roads as may be necessary to carry out the improvement contemplated, and extend therefor such sums of money as are received under this Act. All the roads to be built are to be public roads, and after completion and acceptance by the court, shall become a part of the general highways of the county, and for the purpose of maintaining such roads, or assisting in the construction, the Commissioners Court shall supplement the revenue raised under this Act, by allowing to said district an equitable portion of the road funds available in the county. If a majority of land owners, or acreage shall petition the court for an order authorizing the Board of Commissioners to issue additional bonds for the purpose of maintaining roads in said improvement district, it shall be lawful for the board, when granted, to issue said bonds immediately, for said purpose, but they shall not run for a period to exceed fifteen years, and before any additional bond issue is authorized a date shall be fixed by the Court for a hearing of said petition and public notice thereof, as provided by Sections one and two of this Act shall be given and the sufficiency of the petition shall be determined in like manner, and if the court finds that the assessment of benefits in force at the time is unequal, or that it should be equalized or adjusted, the Court shall order a re-assessment of benefits which shall be made, advertised and confirmed in the manner specified in Section nine to fourteen, inclusive, with like effect, but if bonds, or other interest bearing evidences of indebtedness are outstanding at the time, the total assessment of benefits shall not be lowered, nor shall the additional issue of bonds, or the collection of any tax therefor in any manner interfere with the collection of the tax for the payment of the bonds issued prior to that time, authorizing the Commissioners to advertise for proposals for work to be let by contract, that will call for an expenditure of exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars and may reject any proposal they see fit. All contractors except the county, shall be required to give bond for the faithful performance of such contracts as may be awarded them, with good and sufficient security in an amount to be fixed by the Board of Commissioners, and shall contain an obligation that such contractor, or contractors, will promptly pay all persons supplying him, or them, with labor and materials in the prosecution of the work provided for in such contract. The amount of work done by the contractor shall be estimated from time to time by a competent engineer, and not more than eighty-five percent of the amount due the contractor shall be paid until the completion of the contract, and all material has been paid for, and if it appears that the contractor is not paying for labor and material, they may withhold, in addition to the said fifteen percent, any and all amounts due said contractor if to the best interest of the District, may purchase material and implements necessary to carry on the work of improvement, employ agents to do it, under the direction of the State Highway, or some other competent engineer, that the Board of Commissioners shall cause the assessments to be made, levied, and collected, as long as necessary to pay any obligations contracted under this Act, and if any bond or interest coupon, or other negotiable evidence of debt issued by the Board of Commissioners is not paid within thirty days after its maturity, the Circuit Court, upon application of any holder of such bond, or coupon, shall appoint a receiver to collect the assessments and as assessor to make an assessment and the proceeds of such assessment shall be applied, after payment of the costs, first to the overdue interest and then to the payment pro rata of all bonds issued by the Board of Commissioners, then due and payable, and the receiver, if directed, shall foreclose the lien of said assessment on said property, and any suit so brought by the receiver shall be conducted as a suit by the Commissioners, and with like effect and the decrees and deeds therein shall have the same presumption in favor of their legality, and when all such sums have been paid, the receiver shall be discharged and affairs conducted by the Board of Commissioners; that annually during the month of September, the Commissioner shall file with the Clerk of the Court a settlement, showing collection made and monies received from all sources whatsoever, the amount paid out with proper vouchers for such payments, which shall lie for one month and shall be examined by the Court at its first meeting, after one month from the date of filing, and shall disallow all improper charges and credits, if any, and such accounts may be reexamined in the Court of Equity, upon suit brought by the Board of Commissioners, or any tax payer. All such settlements shall be properly indexed, and filed as a public document; that the Commissioners or assessors shall not be liable to any one for mistakes, errors, or judgment or negligence, but only for wilful misconduct in the discharge of their duties; making it a felony punishable by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than five years, for the Board of Commissioners or any other agent or employe, to corruptly use, or dispose of any bond or money derived from the sale thereof, or any fund of such district, and the Commissioners shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for failing to make settlement as herein required; that the power of the County Commissioners over roads shall not be affected by this Act, which must be observed in the laying out of roads hereunder; that if any owner demands a jury to assess damages to his property, by reason of the improvement, the Board of Commissioners shall institute an action in the Circuit Court for the condemnation of said lands, which shall be in accordance with proceedings for the condemnation of the rights of way for railways, telegraphs, and telephone companies, with the right of paying into the court a sum to be fixed by the court and then proceeding with the work before the assessment of said damages by a jury, and where there is more than one claimant for damages such actions shall be consolidated, if practicable, and one jury shall assess the damages for all; that no appeal shall delay the proceedings for carrying out the improvements and it shall not affect the particular land involved, and if unsuccessful the party appealing shall pay the costs; that the Court shall be open at all times for the purpose of entering any judgment necessary for carrying forward the work of improvement, and may at any regular, special or adjourned term make any and all orders and judgments. Any owner of real property, or the Board of Commissioners may appeal from the orders and judgments of the court, within ten days after same are entered, by filing an affidavit for appeal in the Circuit Court, and stating therein the special grounds on which said appeal is taken, and unless this is done, such orders, etc., shall be final and binding, and should the court refuse to make any necessary orders or judgments, when called upon by the Board of Commissioners, or any officer of the district, it may be required to do so by mandamus in the Circuit Court, which has authority to determine same, or other legal proceedings in vacation and any land owner or the Board of Commissioners may appeal from the ruling of the Circuit Court to the Supreme Court, upon the terms and conditions prescribed by law; that no injunction, or process shall issue to stay the work on the road, or the collection of any assessment hereunder for the paying out of any funds for the debts of the district, unless the party applying therefor shall first enter into bond with good and sufficient security, to be approved by the court, or judge granting same, payable to the Board of Commissioners for the benefit of said district in double the amount already expended on the establishment of the district and outstanding contracts, said bond to be conditioned for the payment of such amount, if such injunction is wrongfully granted; ten days written notice of the application shall be given to the president of the Board of Commissioners, stating the time and place of the intended place for said injunction. Any injunction otherwise issued shall be void; that the word Court as herein used unless otherwise specified in that connection, shall be taken to mean the Court of County Commissioners or Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, or such body by whatever name called supplying the place of the court of county commissioner. The word commissioners refers to district commissioners, unless otherwise indicated; that bonds and coupons issued under and by authority of this Act shall be exempt from all State, county, or municipal taxation, or assessment, direct, or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bond, trust company, or other corporation, but when constituting a part of such surplus, shall be deducted from the total assets in order to ascertain the taxable value of such shares. No municipality to be included in district except after election favoring same.

With notice and proof thereto attached and herewith exhibited as follows:

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO APPLY TO LEGISLATURE FOR PASSAGE OF BILL.

Notice is hereby given of intention to apply to Legislature of Alabama for the passage of a bill, in substance as follows:

An act to provide for the formation of districts for the building and maintaining of public roads in Baldwin County, Alabama, under the provisions of article twenty-one, of the constitution of Alabama as proposed in an act of the Legislature, Acts of 1923, pages 592, 593 and 594, by the County Commissioners, Board of Revenue, or body having same powers and duties by whatever name called, upon a petition being filed with said body setting out the boundaries of said district, and showing same on a plat attached, also the road to be constructed, accompanied by bond to pay court costs and legal advertising that may accrue in the event said district is not established, said petition to be signed by a majority of the land owners, or those owning more than half the acreage within the proposed road improvement district; for the giving of notice of said application and the hearing and passing on same by said board; for the appointing by said board of commissioners for said road district and providing for their duties in connection with the plans, specifications, construction of and financing the road or roads in such road improvement district; providing for the organization of said Board of Commissioners of said road improvement district and declaring same a body politic and corporate with power to sue and be sued and have perpetual succession for the purpose of building, constructing, maintaining and repairing the roads in said district; providing for the employment of an engineer in connection with such road improvement who may be the County engineer, also for assistance from the State Highway Commission for the issuance of notes or bonds for the payment of the expense in connection with such district, for the appointment of a Board of Assessors by said County Commissioners to assess against the lands in said district the amount to be collected for the construction of the road or roads and other expenses not in excess of the improvement of the value of said land by reason of special benefits derived from such improvement; to provide for placing of such assessment on assessment book and collecting same by the County Tax Assessor and Tax Collector and their compensation. To provide for the enforcement of the collection of such assessments by proceedings in the circuit court and such other details as may be necessary for the carrying out of the purpose of such constitutional amendment.

Section one provides (A), for the filing of a petition with the Court of County Commissioners, Board of Revenue, or body having same powers and duties, by whatever name called, of Baldwin County, by a majority of the land owners, or those owning more than half the acreage within the proposed road improvement district, accompanied by a plat, showing boundaries thereof, and bond to pay court costs, and legal advertising in connection therewith, whereupon said Board shall give notice of the filing of said petition by advertisement for three weeks in some newspaper published in the County, for all land holders in the district to show cause, if any, why the petition should not be granted. (B) That said Board or ten land owners in the proposed district may make application to the State highway commission and it shall direct its engineer, or assistant to prepare preliminary surveys, plans, specifications, and estimates of the proposed roads, and file same with said Board that it may determine the feasibility and cost of the project, before petitions are circulated, and thereafter upon application of either of said parties, shall cause to be prepared the petition to be circulated among the land owners in the proposed district, which when signed and filed shall be heard after notice as above provided.

Section two provides that at the hearing any person desiring to do so may remove their name from the petition, and persons interested may also file objections thereto in writing; whereupon if a majority of land owners, either in property or acreage still remain in the petition, and the Board thinks it is to the best interest of the county and land owners to establish a district, it may make an order creating same, and may eliminate such portions as will not be benefited. The petition may be signed by women, married or single, by guardians for their wards, trustees, executors, administrators for estates, and corporations under their seals.

Section three provides that the order of the Board establishing said district shall have the effect of a judgment and shall be deemed conclusive, final and binding upon all territory embraced in the district, and shall not be subject to collateral attack, but any land owner in the district, may appeal within thirty days to the Circuit Court, and may likewise appeal from an order refusing to establish such district, or eliminating territory therefrom, but such appeal shall not delay the proceedings for carrying out the proposed improvements.

Section four, provides for the naming of the district, and that it shall become a body politic and corporate under said name, and may sue and be sued, and have perpetual succession for the purpose of building, constructing, maintaining and repairing roads in said district. The said Board shall at the same time appoint three owners of the real property in the district, of business ability, to act as commissioners for the district, whose term of office shall be four years, and their successors shall be appointed in like manner, and they may be removed at pleasure.

Section five provides for the taking of oath of office by the Board of Commissioners, and if they fail to do so within thirty days, shall be considered as having declined to serve.

Section six provides for the organization of the Board, election of its officers and that they shall not receive compensation of exceeding $5.00 aday, while engaged in attending Board meetings, and also receive expenses while engaged on business for the district out of the county. Said amount to be paid out of the funds of the Road Improvement District, and fixed by the Board appointing them. They are also authorized to engage the necessary attorneys, engineers and other agents for carrying out the improvements contemplated, and fix their pay.

Section seven provides that should the Commissioners not deem it advisable to employ some other engineer, or have the County build the road, they shall call on the State Highway engineer to prepare preliminary plans, specifications and estimates after filing of bond by engineer and adoption of a report by engineer, in whole, or in part if deemed of advantage, making a report to the Court of County Commissioners. Only such roads as are public roads to be included in the improvement.

Section eight authorizes the Board to borrow money for expenses, issuing notes therefor at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent.

Section nine provides that as soon as the Commissioners have formulated the plans for the district, and ascertained the cost thereof, they shall report to the County Commissioners, who at their first meeting thereafter shall appoint assessors for the district.

Section ten provides for time or meeting of assessors, election of officers, oath, quorum, filling of vacancies should any decline, their removal if necessary by the Board of County Commissioners, and pay to be fixed by the same body not exceeding $5.00 per day.

Section eleven provides for assessment book, manner of assessing, and maximum amount, not exceeding benefits as aforesaid.

Section 12, provides for the assessors also assessing damages accruing to any owner, payment thereof, or reduction of assessment in proportion.

Section thirteen, provides for the filing of said assessments with the Board of Commissioners, who in turn shall file same in the office of the clerk of the Court, who shall give notice of same to enable parties interested to make objections at the time fixed by the Commissioners Court, also of assessment of damages, both to be determined by said Court.

Section fourteen, provides that after the hearing the Court shall enter its findings, which shall be incontestable, except by direct attack on appeal. Provides for appeal by aggrieved party on filing affidavit within ten days. The Commissioners are also allowed the right of appeal.

Section fifteen provides for the embracing of other land in the district, if benefited, and proceedings for the inclusion and assessment, which are similar to those for including land in the district as originally formed.

Section sixteen, authorizes the Commissioners to make changes in plans and specifications for the route of the road, or construction of laterals, or extensions within, or beyond, the district, having the engineer to make plans and estimates, filing his report in the Court of County Commissioners, which shall direct the Clerk to give notice in a newspaper calling on the land owners to appear and show cause if they can, why such changes should not be made, which Court can approve said report, from which finding appeal can be taken as provided in Section 14.

Section seventeen, provides that any land owner may petition the Board for correction of his assessment, if it becomes inequitable by reason of changes made under previous sections, said reassessment to be final and binding on the property, but if the district has issued bonds, the total amount of the assessed benefits in the district shall not be diminished. Appeal may be taken as provided in Section 14.

Section eighteen, authorizes the Commissioners not oftener than once a year, to reassess, which shall be advertised, revised and confirmed, as in the case of original assessment, and with a like effect, but if the district has issued interest bearing evidence of the debt, the total amount of the assessed benefits shall not be diminished.

Section nineteen, provides that the Commissioners Court at the time the assessment of benefits is filed with it, by the Commissioners of the district, enter upon its record an order, which shall have all of the force and effect of a judgment, providing that there shall be collected from the land in the district, such portion of the assessment as shall be sufficient to pay the estimated cost of the improvement with ten per cent added for unforeseen contingencies, which assessment is to be paid by the land of the district in proportion to the amount of the assessment of benefits thereon in annual installments. The assessment so levied shall be a preferred lien on the land, except as to taxes. Appeal may be taken as provided in section fourteen, but presumption will be in favor of the legality of the assessment. Any owner of property in the district may by mandamus compel the court to comply with this section.

Section twenty, provides that under resolution of the Board of Commissioners, specifying the number of assessments, they shall be paid in annual installments, which resolution shall cover the whole period in which assessments are to be collected, and a copy thereof transmitted to the County Tax Assessor. The resolution shall state the percent of the benefits to be extended on the county books each year, and collected by the tax collector, with usual taxes. Requires the tax assessor to make extensions, for which he shall receive the same compensation as for similar services performed for the county, to be paid out of the Road Improvement fund. In paying the assessments provided for, or any cost or penalty the grantee shall pay those not due at the time of the transfer.

Section twenty-one, provides that the tax collector of the county shall receive a commission of one percent for his services in making collection, such collection to be paid over by him to the treasurer of said county, or depository. Also provides for a penalty should the collector neglect to collect said assessments when the county taxes are paid, unless prevented by injunction, also a like penalty should assessor fail to enter the assessment on tax book. Such penalty shall be $100.00 in each case.

Section twenty-two, provides that the depository shall be allowed a commission of not exceeding one-half of one percent, to be fixed by the Board of Commissioners, upon all sums lawfully paid out of the money collected on said assessments, but not upon the proceeds of the sale of bonds. Said depository shall pay out no money, except upon warrant signed by the president and secretary of the Board of Commissioners, which shall state amount and purpose for which it is issued, and be numbered consecutively in a book, to be kept by the Board of Commissioners, but no warrant shall be paid by the treasurer or depository unless there is in hands sufficient funds to pay all outstanding warrants bearing a lower number, and no contract warrant shall be made payable in anything but money.

Section twenty-three provides that said Commissioners may deposit proceeds from sale of bonds in a solvent bank, which will pay interest thereon at not less than three percent per annum, which shall give a good bond in an amount equal to one and one-third times the amount, with sufficient security, conditioned that said funds shall be safely kept and paid out in accordance with the law. The selection of the bank must be first reported to the Court, as also the bond for such funds. Said funds may be withdrawn on warrants signed by the president and secretary of the Board, or someone else duly authorized by proper resolution.

Section twenty-four, provides for the levy of additional assessments when necessary, the total amount not to exceed amount of special benefits as before stated.

Section twenty-five provides for a penalty of twenty-five percent in case assessments are not paid by the time fixed for payment of county taxes, which may be collected by suit brought by Board of Commissioners in the Circuit Court, such proceedings shall be in rem and it is immaterial if the ownership of the land is not correctly stated, but it shall have no force, except as against the land. Provides for giving of notice by publication, form or notice and complaint.

Section twenty-six, provides for the proceedings in court, sale of the land, fee of commissioners, attorneys, and cost.

Section twenty-seven contains further provisions as to suit, according to the practice and procedure of the Circuit Court, except as otherwise provided, in the act, which shall be liberally construed to give to said assessment list the effect of bona fide mortgages, and first lien on the land and that no informality, or irregularity in holding any meeting provided for herein, or in any description, valuation, or assessment of the property, or in the name of the owner, number of acres or manner of assessment shall be a valid defense to such action, and for purchase of the property in the name of the Improvement District if no one else bids amount due. At any time within three years after the rendition of final decree the owner may show the payment of assessment for the year for which the land was sold, which will vacate the decree, or the owner may redeem the property within one year.

Section twenty-eight authorizes the Board of Commissioners to issue bonds, or negotiable evidences of debt, for the purpose of securing money with which to carry out and perfect the work of improvement. No bonds to run for more than thirty years, and may be so divided as to make a portion thereof mature each year as assessments are collected, or may all be payable at the same time, with proper provisions for a sinking fund, principal and interest to be secured by lien on the land in the district. Said Commissioners to set aside sufficient from the revenue collected to make provision for the interest and payment of the bonds.

Section twenty-nine, gives the Commissioners authority to build such roads as may be necessary to carry out the improvement contemplated, and expend therefor such sums of money as are received under this Act. All the roads to be built are to be public roads, and after completion and acceptance by the court, shall become a part of the general highways of the county, and for the purpose of maintaining such roads, or assisting in the construction, the Commissioners Court shall supplement the revenues raised under this Act by allowing to said district an equitable portion of the road funds available in the county. If a majority of land owners, or arceage shall petition the court for an order authorizing the Board of Commissioners to issue additional bonds for the purpose of maintaining roads in said improvement district, it shall be lawful for the board, when granted, to issue said bonds immediately, for said purpose, but they shall not run for a period to exceed fifteen years, and before any additional bond issue is authorized a date shall be fixed by the court for a hearing of said petition, and public notice thereof, as provided by Sections one and two of this Act shall be given and the sufficiency of the petition shall be determined in like manner, and if the court finds that the assessment of benefits in force at the time is unequal, or that it should be equalized or adjusted, the Court shall order a re-assessment of benefits, which shall be made, advertised and confirmed in the manner specified in Sections nine to fourteen, inclusive, with like effect, but if bonds, or other interest bearing evidences of indebtedness are outstanding at the time, the total assessment of benefits shall not be lowered, nor shall the additional issue of bonds, or the collection of any tax therefor in any manner interfere with the collection of the tax for the payment of the bonds issued prior to that time.

Section thirty authorizes the Commissioners to advertise for proposals for work to be let by contract, that will call for an expenditure of exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars, and may reject any proposal they see fit. All contractors except the county, shall be required to give bond for the faithful performance of such contracts, as may be awarded them, with good and sufficient security in an amount to be fixed by the Board of Commissioners, and shall contain an obligation that such contractor, or contractors, will promptly pay all persons supplying him, or them, with labor and materials in the prosecution of the work provided for in such contract. The amount of work done by the contractor shall be estimated from time to time by a competent engineer, and not more than eighty-five per cent of the amount due the contractor shall be paid until the completion of the contract, and all material has been paid for, and if it appears that the contractor is not paying for labor and material, they may withhold, in addition to the said fifteen percent, any and all amounts due said contractor until the labor and material has been paid for, or if they deem it best, they may, upon proper notice to the contractor, pay out to the laborers, and material men, such funds as are on hand to the credit of the contractor. All amounts so held by the district for the payment of such claims, will be regarded as trust funds. Any attempt by any one to prevent full and free competition in bidding shall be deemed a contempt of court and if any person loan, give, or offer to loan or give, directly or indirectly, any money, or other thing of value to any member of the court, clerk, commissioners, engineer, contractor, bidder, or any other person, or person in the employ of any of said persons, for the purpose of preventing full, free and unrestricted competition in the bidding, or awarding of any contract for work, for the sale or purchase of bonds, or securing employment in any position in connection with said district, such person shall be guilty of a felony, punishable for not less than one, nor more than five years.

Section thirty-one, provides that the Board of Commissioners, may, if deemed to the best interest of the District, purchase material and implements necessary to carry on the work of improvement, employ agents to do it under the direction of the State highway, or some other competent engineer.

Section thirty-two provides that the Board of Commissioners shall cause the assessments to be made, levied and collected, as long as necessary to pay any obligations contracted under this Act, and if any bond or interest coupon, or other negotiable evidence of debt issued by the Board of Commissioners is not paid within thirty days after its maturity, the Circuit Court, upon application of any holder of such bond, or coupon, shall appoint a receiver to collect the assessments and an assessor to make an assessment and the proceeds of such assessment shall be applied, after payment of the costs, first to the over due interest and then to the payment pro rata of all bonds issued by the Board of Commissioners, then due and payable, and the receiver, if directed, shall foreclose the lien of said assessment on said property, and any suit so brought by the receiver shall be conducted as a suit by the Commissioners, and with like effect and the decree and deeds therein shall have the same presumption in favor of their legality, and when all such sums have been paid, the receiver shall be discharged and affairs conducted by the Board of Commissioners.

Section thirty-three provides that annually during the month of September, the Commissioner shall file with the Clerk of the Court a settlement, showing collection made and monies received from all sources whatsoever, the amount paid out with proper vouchers for such payments, which shall lie over for one month, and shall be examined by the Court at its first meeting, after one month from the date of filing, and shall disallow all improper charges and credits, if any, and such accounts may be re-examined in the Court of Equity, upon suit brought by the Board of Commissioners, or any tax payer. All such settlements shall be properly indexed and filed as a public document.

Section thirty-four, the Commissioners, or assessors shall not be liable to any one for mistakes, errors of judgment or negligence, but only for wilful misconduct, in the discharge of their duties.

Section thirty-five, makes it a felony, punishable by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than five years, for the Board of Commissioners, or any other agent, or employee, to corruptly use, or dispose of any bond or money derived from the sale thereof or any fund of such district, and the Commissioners shall be guilty of a misdemeanor for failing to make settlement as herein required.

Section thirtysix, provides that the power of the County Commissioners over roads shall not be affected by this Act, which must be observed by the laying out of roads hereunder.

Section thirty-seven provides that if any owner demands a jury to assess damages to his property, by reason of the improvement, the Board of Commissioners shall institute an action in the Circuit Court for the condemnation of said lands, which shall be in accordance with proceedings for the condemnation of the rights-of-way for railways, telegraphs and telephone companies with the right of paying into the court a sum to be fixed by the court, and then proceeding with the work before the assessment of said damages by a jury, and where there is more than one claimant for damages, such actions shall be consolidated, if practicable, and one jury shall assess the damages for all.

Section thirty-eight provides that no appeal shall delay the proceedings for carrying out the improvements and it shall only affect the particular land involved, and if unsuccessful the party appealing shall pay the costs.

Section thirty-nine, provides that the Court shall be open at all times for the purpose of entering any judgment necessary for carrying forward the work of improvement, and may at any regular, special, or adjourned term make any and all orders and judgments. Any owner of real property, or the Board of Commissioners may appeal from the orders and judgments of the court, within ten days after same are entered, by filing an affidavit for appeal in the Circuit Court, and stating therein the special grounds on which said appeal is taken, and unless this is done, such orders, etc., shall be final and binding, and should the court refuse to make any necessary orders or judgments, when called upon by the Board of Commissioners, or any officer of the district, it may be required to do so by mandamus in the Circuit Court, which has authority to determine same, or other legal proceedings in vacation and any land owner or the Board of Commissioners may appeal from the ruling of the Circuit Court to the Supreme Court, upon the terms and conditions prescribed by law.

Section forty provides that no injunction, or process shall issue to stay the work on the road, or the collection of any assessment hereunder for the paying out of any funds for the debts of the district, unless the party applying therefor shall first enter into bond with good and sufficient security, to be approved by the court, or judge granting same, payable to the Board of Commissioners for the benefit of said district in double the amount already expended on the establishment of the district and outstanding contracts, said bond to be conditioned for the payment of such amount, if such injunction is wrongfully granted; ten days written notice of the application shall be given to the president of the Board of Commissioners, stating the time and place of the intended place for said injunction. Any injunction otherwise issued shall be void.

Section forty-one, That the word Court as herein used unless otherwise specified in that connection shall be taken to mean the Court of County Commissioners or Board of Revenue and Road Commissioners, or such body, by whatever name called supplying the place of the court of county commissioners. The word commissioners refers to district commissioners, unless otherwise indicated.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Senate bill, the title to which is set out in the above and foregoing Message from the Senate was read one time and referred to an appropriate standing committee as follows:

Local Legislation, S. 362.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has originated and adopted the following joint resolution and sends same herewith to the House:

By Mr. Craft:

S. J. R. 64. Whereas, water transportation by reason of the great stimulus imparted in recent years to the vast river system in the forty-eight states in the Union,

And whereas, the necessity for it has become imperative, and will continue, for many years to come, will cause the people of the country to demand that the development of the water-courses shall be pushed with all vigor, in order to meet all the requirements of commerce.

And Whereas the development of hydroelectric power has imparted to the matter of making all the rivers navigable throughout the length of the years as they come and go, giving to the proposition an element of strength that is irresistible,

And whereas, the interconnection of watercourses and open bodies of water such as lakes, bays, gulfs, and the oceans with each other by the cutting of canals, wherever necessary, thus giving a system of water transportation which in length of travel will surpass many times over the combined length of all the railroads on the North American continent, as this includes both domestic and foreign trade,

And whereas, the differentials in freight rates as between water and rail, will in a brief flight of years pay the whole cost of the Grand project herein outlined.

And whereas, the maintenance of the whole system of water transportation when once completed, will require moderate expenditure annually, about one-fiftieth part of what it takes for the same length to maintain the railway system of the country.

And whereas, the Congress of the United States, on January 21, 1927, in the Rivers and Harbors Act, authorized the survey of the route for barge Line transportation from the Cumberland Sound to the Mississippi River at New Orleans.

And Whereas, the existence of navigable streams and large inland bays and lakes will greatly facilitate and lessen the cost of this project,

And whereas, the project as a whole is of a three-fold nature, that is to say, a canal connecting Mobile Bay with Pensacola Bay; connecting New Orleans with Apalachicola, Florida, and the Columbus, Georgia waterway; and canal connecting Cumberland Sound with the Mississippi River through the Industrial Canal, already in use at New Orleans.

And whereas, the Cumberland Sound Route for barge line transportation, will pursue the following route, that is to say: It will begin at Cumberland Sound, and proceed thence via the St. Mary's River in Georgia and Florida; thence through the Okefenokee Swamp in Georgia, and thence via the Sewanee River in Florida and St. George's Sound, a Government Canal, now connecting the Apalachicola River with St. Andrews' Bay, Choctawhatchee Bay, Santa Rosa Sound, Pensacola Bay, and Big Lagoon, in Florida; Perdido Bay and Mobile Bay, in Alabama; through the Mississippi Sound, Lake Ponchartrain, and the Industrial Canal, Louisiana, connecting finally with the Mississippi River, at New Orleans,

And whereas, these three projects are under seaprate authorization for survey and examination,

And whereas, the route from Mobile Bay to the Cumberland Sound on the east will provide a barge line route to Baltimore New York, and other Atlantic points, while the Columbus, Georgia route, will be very beneficial to a large territory, the Pensacola to Mobile Project will develop large tonnage for the seaport at Mobile by reason of the fact, that both Mobile and New Orleans, are already in constant and intimate connection with the great inland water-system of the United States, the former, Mobile, being 31 miles from, and the latter, New Orleans, being 132 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, with Mobile Bay intervening between Mobile and the Gulf.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Senate, the House concurring, That the State of Alabama, through its Legislature, in session assembled, heartily endorses and favors the project hereinabove set forth,

Be it Further Resolved, That it is the sense of the legislature of Alabama, by the joint action of the two houses, thereof that the three projects above set forth, being in reality in Intercoastal or Inland Canal, for Barge Line transportation should be of such depth and width where necessary for canalizing to be done, which will be but infinitesimal part of the route as to such depth and width, sufficient to accommodate all traffic passing thereby.

Be it further Resolved, That the project being of such immense value to the commerce of the whole country, as to deserve, and should have the unqualified support of all the states,

Be it further Resolved, That the Legislature of Alabama puts itself on record as unqualifiedly endorsing and commending the tripartite project hereinabove outlined.

Be it Further Resolved, That the Governor of the State of Alabama, is hereby requested to transmit copies of this resolution to the President of the United States; to the members of the Senate and House of Representatives, from the State of Alabama; to the Chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committees in both houses of Congress; to the Federal Power Commission; and to the heads of the Various Departments of the National Government,

Be it Further Resolved, that five hundred copies of this resolution be printed for the use of the Legislature

J. E. Speight,
Secretary.

(With amendment): To enlarge the authority, powers and jurisdiction of the Alabama Public Service Commission so as to provide for the supervision, inspection and regulation by said Commission in the public interest of the operation of motor carriers and of their services, rules, regulations and practices; fares, rates, charges and facilities; franchises and licenses; to provide for the payment of supervision and inspection fees by motor carriers; to provide compensation for performance of the duties imposed upon the Commission hereunder; and to provide measures for the enforcement of the Commission's orders, and penalties for failure to comply with the orders of the Commission or with the provisions of this Act.

Was taken up. The question was upon the adoption of the amendment reported by the Standing Committee on Public Roads and Highways. Said amendment being as follows:

Amendments S. 54:

To amend S. 54, Section 4 as follows: By adding to Section 4 just after the words "Motor Carrier shall apply for such certificates of convenience and necessity" and just before the words "in addition to such other rules" and insert the following: "Nothing in this Act shall be so construed so as to prevent any person or persons to operate over the public roads of this State, after said person or persons have filed the proper application, presented the required bond, and paid the required fees, and complied with the regulations as to fare, service, schedule as provided herein.

To amend S. 54, by striking from the title or caption thereof the words "franchise and license" wherever they appear in said title or caption.

To amend S. 54, Section 4, by striking therefrom the entire section, and substitute therefor the following:

Section 4. After three months from the going into effect of this Act, no motor carrier shall operate for the transportation of persons, or property for hire between fixed termini or over a regular route upon any public highway in this State without first obtaining from the Commission under the provisions of this Act, a certificate to the effect that public convenience and necessity require such operation; but

"A certificate may be granted when it appears to the satisfaction of the Commission that such person was actually operating on January 1, 1927, over the route for which such certificate is sought, in good faith and in a manner deemed by the Commission beneficial to the public and adequate as to service, rates and the protection of the public; provided the applicant must comply with the provisions of this Act. Any such rights or certificate held, owned or obtained by a motor carrier may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred or inherited as other property, and the privileges thereunder exercised, only upon authorization by the Commission."

"The Commission shall have power, after hearing, to issue said certificate as prayed for; or, for good cause shown, to refuse to issue same, or to issue it for the partial exercise only of said privilege sought."

"Motor carriers must operate and furnish service in conformity with the current existing terms and provisions of their respective certificate of convenience and necessity. Such certificate shall be void unless the applicant to whom it is granted begins operations thereunder within three months from the date the certificate is issued. The Commission may adopt rules prescribing the manner and form in which motor carriers shall apply for such certificates of convenience and necessity. In addition to such other rules as may be adopted by the Commission, said application must be in writing and sworn to, and must show the following:

"(a) The name and address of the applicant and full information concerning the financial condition and property of the applicant.

"(b) The entire route over which the applicant desires to operate and the kind of transportation, whether passenger or freight, or both, in which the applicant proposes to engage, together with a brief description of each vehicle which the applicant intends to use, including the seating capacity, if for passenger traffic, or the tonnage capacity, if for freight traffic.

"(c) Proposed time schedule.

"(d) A statement showing the passenger fares or freight rates to be charged between the several points or localities to be served."

To amend S. 54, Section 5, by striking from the section the following words: "begins operations under" just after the words "Motor Carrier" and just before the words "such certificate" and insert in lieu thereof the following words: "shall obtain."

To amend S. 54, Section 7, by striking therefrom the last eight words of this section "except as may otherwise be provided by law."

All money paid out under the provisions of this section shall be paid out of the Motor Carrier fund on warrants drawn by the State Auditor on the State Treasurer and approved by the Governor. Provided that the Alabama Public Service Commission shall have no authority, or power to expend any amount exceeding seven thousand, five hundred ($7,500.00) dollars per annum, in the operation of the provisions of this act; which amount shall include all salaries and all expense of whatever nature as applied thereto. Whenever the amount accruing to the Motor Carrier Fund, as provided by section 7 of this Act or by any other fee provided by law, shall equal seven thousand; five hundred ($7,500.00) dollars, per annum, the credits to the Motor Carrier Fund shall cease, and all amounts received as provided in section 7 of this Act and any and all other amounts as may have been otherwise provided by law, shall then and thereafter during said year be credited to the maintenance fund of the State Highway Department, anything to the contrary notwithstanding.

To amend S. 54, Section 9, by adding the following words to this section: "provided that said expenditures shall not exceed seven thousand, five hundred ($7,500.00) dollars, per annum."

To amend S. 54, Section 10, sub section 8, by adding the following words: "when not subject to section 13 of this Act."

A BILL

To be entitled an Act, relating to and to further provide for the revenue of the State of Alabama, by providing for the registration and identification of motor vehicles, and trailers used on the public highways of Alabama and for the registration and license fee therefor, and to further provide for the revenue of the State of Alabama.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of Alabama, as follows:

Section 1. Trailer: "Every vehicle without motive power designed for carrying property, only, wholly, or partially on its own structure and being drawn by a motor vehicle, shall pay a license tax of fifty per cent (50%), of the cost of the license tax of the motor vehicle by which it is drawn. Trailer or trailers, for hauling passengers are prohibited by law.

Section 2. Jitney Bus: A motor vehicle not operated on tracks engaged in the business of carrying passengers for hire over, along, and upon a definite and substantially fixed route or routes, the length of which is under fifteen miles, or between definite and substantially fixed terminal points, and the distance between said fixed points is under fifteen miles; not including hotel or sightseeing busses. Provided, that this section shall not be construed to apply to motor vehicles or motor busses, engaged in hauling passengers for hire with or without a franchise, in cities or towns where street railways are not operating, or may have ceased to operate street cars by order of the Alabama Public Service Commission, or a like body. All such motor vehicles or motor busses, within the meaning of this clause, shall conform to the provision of section three of this Act.

Section 3. Motor vehicles: (a) for each automobile, motor car, or motor bus, used for transporting passengers, paying fare or charges except a jitney bus, shall pay the following named amounts for license tax: Seating capacity of 5 persons or less, $37.50; Seating capacity of more than 5 and not exceeding 10, $50.00; Seating capacity of more than 10 and not exceeding 15, $75.00; Seating capacity of more than 15 and not exceeding 20, $100.00; Seating capacity of more than 20 and not exceeding 40, $150.00. If in the opinion of the Tax Commission a good and sufficient reason is shown for such delinquency the Tax Commission may remit the penalty, otherwise the penalty shall be paid.

The Tax Commission shall be authorized and empowered to make return for the delinquent tax payer upon such information as it may reasonably obtain, and add thereto the penalty as provided in this section of this Act.

The Tax Commission shall, as soon as it is practicable and before the fifteenth day of the month succeeding the ending of each quarter as provided in this Act, certify to the State Auditor, and the State Treasurer the names of all persons liable to pay the tax herein provided, together with the post office address and the amount of the tax and if any such taxes shall not have been paid, the Chairman of the State Tax Commission shall issue executions for the collection of such taxes direct to any sheriff of the State, who shall proceed to collect the same in the manner now prescribed by law for the collection of delinquent taxes by county tax collectors and make return of such executions to the State Tax Commission. SENATE MESSAGE

On motion of Tunstall the House concurred in and adopted the Senate Joint Resolution No. 70 set out in the above and foregoing Message from the Senate.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

To The Legislature of Alabama,
Gentlemen of the House:

I am returning herewith House Bill No. 649, relative to the election of of the County Superintendent of Education for Coosa County, without my approval.

I suggest the following executive amendment which if adopted will remove my objections to the Bill.

Amend Section Five (5) so that it will read as follows:

"No person shall be eligible for political party nomination for County Superintendent of Education for Coosa County, Alabama or for election to said office who shall not hold an Alabama certificate in administration and supervision based as a minimum upon graduation from a standard normal school or equivalent education, with at least one year of additional study of college grade and proof of three years successful teaching experience and before a candidate can qualify for nomination in the primary, he or she must make an affidavit and file the same with the Probate Judge that he or she has and possesses the qualifications herein prescribed".

The reason for this amendment is that it is highly desired that each county superintendent of education possess the qualifications required by the School Code of Alabama so as not to lower the efficiency of the supervision of the public schools of the State.

Respectfully,
Bibb Graves,
Governor.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. The Court of County Commissioners shall forthwith select and designate one hundred miles of the principal public roads, other than state highways, which shall be known as the secondary highway system of Greene County, Alabama.

Section 2. The Court of County Commissioners shall each year build and construct a portion of said secondary highway system. The roads and bridges of said secondary highway system shall be of a durable character, properly located by a competent civil engineer and shall be constructed in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by such an engineer; provided, it shall be permissible to construct well graded earth roads.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the Court of County Commissioners immediately upon the selection of the roads constituting the secondary highway system of Greene County to secure a civil engineer experienced in the preparation of plans, specifications and blueprints for the construction of public roads and bridges. Be it enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. That the following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama is hereby proposed to be submitted to the qualified electors of the State of Alabama for their consideration and action at an election to be held on the second Tuesday, after the expiration of three months from and after the final adjournment of the present session of the Legislature at which this amendment is proposed, to-wit: The municipality of Decatur, in the State of Alabama, shall have the power and right to levy and collect a tax of one-half of one per centum in any one year on property situated thereon, based on the valuation of such property as assessed for state taxation for the tax year ending on the 30th day of September next succeeding the levy; provided, that for the purpose of paying bonds issued and outstanding at the time of the adoption of this amendment and the interest thereon, and for the purpose of paying bonds which may be issued after the adoption of this amendment and interest thereon, an additional tax of one-half of one per centum may be levied and collected by said corporation; provided further, that a majority of the qualified electors of said municipal corporation voting at an election called for that purpose may vote a special tax not to exceed one-half of one per centum in any one year for any special purpose or purposes, which tax shall be used only for the purpose or purposes for which same is levied and collected; provided, however, that the total tax to be levied by said municipal corporation shall not exceed one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) per centum in any one year. Provided, further, that the adoption of this amendment, shall in no wise, affect, limit, modify, abridge or impair the power, authority or right of said municipal corporation to levy and collect an additional special tax to be applied exclusively for the public schools, public school buildings and public improvements as now authorized by Section 216 of the Constitution of Alabama, nor affect, limit, modify, abridge, or impair the power, authority or right of said municipal Corporation to levy and collect any other special taxes, now or hereafter vested in or conferred upon it under the Constitution or any amendment thereto. Each election held under the provisions hereof shall be ordered, held, canvassed and may be contested in the same manner as is or may be provided by the law applicable to the municipal corporation for elections to authorize the issuance of municipal bonds. And the voter shall record his choice, whether for or against the excess rate or rates shown by placing a cross mark before or after the words expressing his choice. Nothing herein contained shall in any wise change or affect the rights of any holder of bonds of said municipal corporations heretofore issued. Elections to authorize the levy of such special tax may be held as often as ordered by the governing body of the municipalities but when a proposition is submitted to the electors to levy a special tax for a specific purpose, and such proposition is defeated no second election for the same shall be held in one year thereafter.

Section 2. Section 3. That at the said election on the amendment proposed by this act to be submitted to the qualified electors of the State for their consideration, to be held as hereinafter provided for, the qualified electors shall vote upon said amendment, and on the official ballot printed for such election there shall be printed the following, viz.: "Shall the following be adopted as an amendment to the Constitution of Alabama: 'The municipality of Decatur, in the State of Alabama, shall have the power and right to levy and collect a tax of one-half of one per centum in any one year on property situated therein, based on the valuation of such property as assessed for state taxation for the tax year ending on the 30th day of September next succeeding the levy; provided that for the purpose of paying bonds issued and outstanding at the time of the adoption of this amendment and the interest thereon, and for the purpose of paying bonds which may be issued after the adoption of this amendment and the interest thereon, an additional tax of one-half of one per centum may be levied and collected by said corporation; provided further, that a majority of the qualified electors of said municipal corporation voting at an election called for the purpose may vote a special tax not to exceed one-half of one per centum in any one year for any special purpose or purposes, which tax shall be used only for the purpose or purposes for which the same was levied and collected; provided, however, that the total tax to be levied by said municipal corporation shall not exceed one and one-half ($1\frac{1}{2}$) per centum in any one year. Provided, further, that the adoption of this amendment shall in no wise affect, limit, modify, abridge or impair the power, authority or right of said municipal corporation to levy and collect an additional special tax to be applied exclusively for the public schools, public school buildings, and public improvements as now authorized by Section 216, of the Constitution of Alabama, nor affect, limit, modify, abridge or impair the power, authority or right of said municipal corporation to levy and collect any other special taxes now or hereafter vested in or conferred upon it under the Constitution or any amendment thereto." Elections to authorize the levy of such special tax may be held as often as ordered by the governing body of the municipality, but when a proposition is submitted to the electors to levy a special tax for a specific purpose, and such proposition is defeated no second election for the same purpose shall be held in one year thereafter. This amendment shall be self-executing and no act of the Legislature shall be required to put the same, or any part thereof, in force. This amendment shall not apply to counties.

Following the proposed amendment on the ballot shall be printed the word "Yes," and immediately under that shall be printed the word, "No." The choice of the elector shall be indicated by a cross mark made by him, or under his direction, opposite the word expressing his desire.

Section 4. That the officers to hold such election shall be the same and shall be appointed in the same manner and by the same officials as provided by the election law of the State for the appointment of officers to hold general elections in this State, and the election shall be held in all things in accordance with the law governing general elections and with the constitutional provisions concerning amendments to that instrument.

Constitution of Alabama. The result of such election shall be made known by proclamation by the governor.

Be it Enacted by the Legislature of Alabama:

Section 1. The following amendment to the Constitution of Alabama is hereby proposed, and an election is hereby ordered by the qualified electors of the State upon such proposed amendment, and the day hereby appointed for such election is the day of the general election next succeeding the present session of the Legislature to-wit: November , 1928. The proposed amendment is to add a new section or clause as follows:

ARTICLE XI.

The ballots used at such election shall contain the words: "For authorization of additional taxation at rate not to exceed per cent for the year (or years) for the purpose or purposes of " and "Against authorization of additional taxation at rate not to exceed per cent for the year (or years) for the purpose or purposes of ." This section shall be self-operative without any additional legislation.

Section 2. Notice of the election hereby ordered, together with the amendment hereby proposed, shall be given by a proclamation of the Governor, which shall be published in one newspaper in each County of the State once a week for at least eight successive weeks next preceding the day hereby appointed for such election.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

To the Legislature of Alabama,

Montgomery, Alabama.

Gentlemen of the House:

I am returning herewith to the House, as the body in which it originated, House Bill No. 573, without my approval. I suggest the following executive amendments, which if concurred in will remove my objections to the bill.

Strike from Section 1, of the bill the words "or without limitation," where they occur in Section 1. Amend further by striking from Section 3, the words, "or unlimited", where they occur therein.

These amendments are suggested for the reason that in my judgment it will be violative of the expressed terms, as well as the spirit, of Section 22 of the Constitution of Alabama, 1901, to grant any charter, franchise or other powers of the State for an unlimited period of time.

Respectfully,

August 4, 1927.

Bibb Graves, Governor.

On motion of Mr. Sanderson the House concurred in and adopted the amendment proposed by the Governor to the bill H. 573, said Governor's amendment being set out in the above and foregoing Message from the Governor.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

In Re. H. B. 917. Aug. 9, 1927.

I vote "I" (aye) and do so in order that those who really are deserving may receive the increase really needed. The cost of living in Montgomery is so high that some of these assistants are hardly able to live and make any provision for old age. New clerks will receive more than they deserve but clerks who have been here years and years and really are efficient, should receive compensation according to their worth.

Ira Pegues, Representative,
Jackson County.

This is commonly called the salary increase bill.

Ira Pegues.

On motion of Mr. Tunstall the Bill H. 917 was ordered sent to the Senate without engrossment.

H. 972. To make appropriations for the ordinary expenses of the executive and judicial departments of the State and for interest on the public debt.

Amend H. B. No. 972 as follows: By striking the word, "Thirty-seven" in line 6 on page 9 of the Printed Bill and inserting, in lieu thereof, the word "Thirty-eight."

And the amendment offered by Mr. Baldwin was adopted.

He shall also make to the Legislature at each of its regular sessions, a report of the progress of his explorations and examinations, together with such analyses of soils or of minerals, mineral waters, etc., with maps and chartes as may be needed for illustrations, which report shall be printed and shall be the exclusive property of the State. He shall also make collections of specimens illustrative of the geological, agricultural and other natural resources of the State, which, after they shall have served the immediate purposes of the survey, shall be placed in the museum of the Survey in Smith Hall at the University of Alabama, as a permanent exhibit, except that duplicates of these specimens and excess material may be distributed by the State Geologist to educational institutions of the State which may request them and have use for them. Section 1040. This Section is to be amended so as to read as follows: Printing and Binding Geological Bulletins.—When the number of such bulletins or report to be printed and published has been so determined, the Governor shall order the same to be printed and bound forthwith at such times and places, and in such manner and style as regards size, type, quality of paper, binding, etc., as said committee may deem best, and in similar manner he shall have engraved and printed all charts, maps, views, drawings, sketches, or details as may be deemed necessary by said committee to properly illustrate such bulletin or report. And for the purposes herein mentioned, when, in the opinion of said committee, the state printers are not prepared to do in proper manner any engraving or other work required for such report or bulletin, the Governor may authorize special contract with such persons, firms, or corporations, within or without the State, as in the judgment of said committee will secure the promptest and most satisfactory work.

Mr. Jordan of Etowah offered the following amendment to the Bill H. 651.

Amend House Bill No. 651 by amending Section One (1) to read as follows:

Section 1. That upon the presentation of a petition signed by not less than twenty-five per centum of the qualified electors of Etowah County, Alabama, to the Probate Judge of said County not less than ninety (90) days prior to the general election in 1928, requesting that an election be called in said County for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors thereof the question of whether or not the Superintendent of Education in said County shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof—or selected by the County Board of Education. That the Probate Judge, after ascertaining that the petition contains the required number of signers shall call such an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 1928, and shall advertise the same in some newspaper published in Etowah County for two consecutive weeks. That the ballot to be used in said election shall read as follows:

"Shall the County Superintendent of Education in Etowah County be elected by the qualified electors as other County officers are elected?"

"Yes....."

No....."

"The voter shall make a cross mark before or after his choice".

Said election shall be conducted by the same election officers who conduct the general election, the vote canvassed and the result declared in the same manner as is provided by law for general elections.

There shall not be included in the above limitation of indebtedness the following classes of indebtedness, to-wit: (a) temporary loans for current expenses to be paid within one year, made in anticipation of the collection of taxes for the current year, and not exceeding one-fourth of the general revenues for the preceding year; (b) indebtedness already or hereafter incurred for acquiring, providing, or constructing water works, electric light and gas plants; (c) indebtedness already or hereafter incurred for sewer, street, sidewalk and other improvements whether of a like or of any different kind, to the extent that the cost thereof has been or is proposed to be assessed against the property benefited thereby; and (d) indebtedness incurred prior to September 1st, 1927, which, at the time it was incurred, was not included within the then existing constitutional limitation, and any obligations to be incurred in refunding such indebtedness.

as may be provided by law) and the officers of such now or hereafter charged by law with the duty of levying and collecting taxes are hereby authorized and required annually to levy and collect such tax in the same manner as other taxes are levied and collected, the proceeds thereof to be applied solely to the payment of such principal and interest, provided the amount of such tax shall be decreased by the amount of special assessments or other funds on hand and appropriated to the payment of such principal and interest. "Move that the House Standing Committee on Judiciary be and that Committee hereby is, directed to act on Senate Bill 275 and report same to this House at the next sitting of this House.

Tompkins of Houston.

Mr. Carter, Chairman of the Standing Committee on Military returned to the House, with a favorable report, the following House Joint Resolution:

By Mr. Carter:

H. J. R. 163. Whereas, of the nine classes of officers who served in the World War, eight classes, namely: Regular Officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps; Provisional Officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps and Emergency Officers of the Navy and Marine Corps—have been granted by Congress the privileges of retirement for disability, when incurred in line of duty, leaving only the Disabled Emergency Officers of the Army without such retirement privileges, and,

Whereas, an overwhelming number of the members of Congress since the Armistice have promised to correct this injustice to Disabled Emergency Army Officers by the Enactment of Legislation designed to adjust the unfair condition imposed upon this one remaining class of officers.

Be it resolved, That the Legislature of Alabama in regular session convened, heartily endorse the demand for recognition of the equality of service of the other eight classes of officers and the Emergency Army Officers in the proposal to grant retirement privileges to the Disabled Emergency Army Officers upon the same basis and with the same privileges as have been granted to the disabled Officers of all other classes including the disabled Emergency Officers of the Navy and Marine Corps, and,

Be it further resolved, That all members of the Seventieth Congress of the United States be and they are hereby most strongly urged to lend their most active support in securing the enactment of the so-called Tyson-Fitzgerald bill as early as possible in the new Congress, and,

Be it further resolved, That copies of this Resolution be sent to each member of the Congress of the United States from the State of Alabama.

And on motion of Mr. Carter the rules were suspended and the Resolution was adopted.
